YANKS LAUNCH REAL BATTLE FOR GERMANY
RUSSIANS CROSS DANUBE INTO YUGOSLAVIAMay Have Joined Tito's Partisan
Army near BorderTurnu-Severin
Falls to Reds

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Thursday, Sept. 7. (AP)—The Red army has smashed across the Danube into Yugoslavia to join with the Yugoslav Partisans, Marshal Tito's radio station broadcast early today shortly after the nightfall. Russian communists had announced capture of Turnu-Severin, on the Romanian bank of the river.

The Russians did not announce a crossing into Yugoslavia, and Tito's broadcast gave no details, but the development was entirely reasonable, particularly since Moscow dispatches have said the Red army often has outrun official statements by ten miles or more. Tito's broadcast did not state that a juncture had yet been made between his Partisans and the Russians, but the fact that he was able to announce the Russian arrival indicated some connection already existed.

"Chute Landings Possible. The Danube is 4,000 feet wide at Turnu-Severin, but an island that a crossing may have been made by air was contained in a midnight Moscow dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore who wrote:

"The Red army is employing large groups of parachutists in its lightning advance westward in an operation which promises soon to link up with Tito's forces."

He added that occupation of Turnu-Severin put the Russians 100 miles from Belgrade, Yugoslav capital, and a little over 140 miles from the Hungarian frontier, "but by the time this is in print, from the way the Russians are going, they will be considerably closer to both objectives."

Advance 50 Miles. Paired with the spectacular dash of more than fifty miles westward in a single day in Romania, the Russians gave equal or greater mention to capture of the Polish port of a Narew river fortress of Ostrołęka in a hard-slogging gain of two miles through some of the heaviest German defenses.

This victory, extending an outflanking movement against Warsaw and creating an ominous new threat to East Prussia, twenty-five miles northward, was soon after five successive strong German counterattacks were beaten back, the Soviet communiqué said.

Two thousand Germans were killed in the counterattacks and another 300 were downed as the Russians cleaned out the whole east bank of the Narew, the Russians said.

The twin triumphs, widely contrasting in type and location, both pressed calamity for the Germans, whose radio commentators, apparently having written off the Balkans, took a far graver view of the offensive toward East Prussia and outflanking Warsaw.

Juncture With Tito. Capture of Turnu-Severin, at the downstream end of the famous Danube rapids known as the "Iron Gate," promised immediate juncture of Soviet forces with the Yugoslav Partisans of Marshal Tito and threatened early completion of a line of steel across the top of the Balkan peninsula.

The drive isolated Bulgaria, already crying for an armistice in the war that Russia declared on her Tuesday night, and crushed the last glimmering German hopes of making any serious stand in the Balkans.

Turnu-Severin is but 100 miles from the Yugoslav city of Nis, which controls the main German railroad line from the Southern Balkans, and is 260 miles from Budapest. Its capture announced in the Soviet communiqué, permits complete bypassing of the rugged Carpathian passes for a drive toward the Hungarian capital. The Russians kept silent on German reports that they also had already invaded Bulgaria.

16 American Parachutists Saved
By Heroic New York City Woman

By KENNETH L. DIXON

SOUTHERN FRANCE, Sept. 6. (AP)—In the tiny town of Tanaron shortly after dawn on Aug. 15, Southern France's Day, a parachute sergeant was in a bad fix. He and his fifteen men had been dropped ten miles from their assigned landing zone, had fought a quick battle and captured a dozen Germans, but finally were cut off and surrounded. Three wounded needed quick attention.

Suddenly the townspeople started shouting. Striding toward a street barricade came a slim, athletic woman, her face deeply tanned, a flashing lock of pure white hair standing out in her brown bobbed hair.

"The girl with the blonde mechle

(lock of hair). Fredricka!" exclaimed the French. "It's Miss Pell!" She wore the tricolored brassard of the FFI, but she spoke to the sergeant in pure American. "Okay kid," she said. "It's all right now."

She stood a moment. Tears rolled down her smiling face, then Isabel Townsend Pell, 43-year-old New Yorker who looks ten years younger, ended four years in the French underground by showing sixteen fellow-Americans how to get safely through the German lines.

Those four years included all kinds of mercy work, two arrests by Axis agents and two months in the dread Puget Thénier prison. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Bulgaria Faces
Internal Revolt

By WADE WERNER

LONDON, Sept. 6. (AP)—Bulgaria, frantically struggling to get out of the war, seemed on the edge of an internal upheaval as Moscow radio urged the population to "take fate in your own hands."

Unconfirmed reports from other sources pictured Soviet troops already marching into the cornered and bewildered country.

The regime of Premier Constantine Muraviev, confronted by a Russian declaration of war in the very midst of its efforts to wriggle out of the war with the United States and Great Britain, appealed to Moscow for an armistice without waiting for the entry of Soviet troops.

Bulgars May Declare War. At the same time the Bulgars paved the way for a possible Bulgarian declaration of war against their former ally Germany by accusing Nazi troops of attacking and capturing units of the Bulgarian army.

A Sofia radio, heard by the Federal Communications Commission, announced that all German troops in Bulgaria had been interned.

Apparently panicked by Moscow's radio call to Bulgars to rise against the "ruling clique," the Sofia government ordered Bulgarians to quit listening to any broadcasts and to submit to "official sealings" of their reception sets.

Russians Silent

It was still unclear what notice the Soviet planned to take of Muraviev's armistice appeal, but reports from Moscow correspondents indicated a delegation representing some kind of Bulgarian government was expected to arrive there to sign an armistice soon.

Already a peace mission from Romania is waiting in Moscow and another from Finland is expected.

A dispatch from Cairo said the Russian declaration of war against Bulgaria was expected to result in a joint Bulgarian armistice with the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union.

Hungary appeared to be the only satellite firmly in the Nazi grip as Czechoslovak forces, reinforced with arms from the Allies, launched a counterattack against the Germans in the vicinity of Zilina and Vrútky, main junction line of retreat for the Nazis from Romania and Hungary in the Vah Valley in Slovakia.

Cleveland Plain Dealer
Comes Out for Dewey

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6. (AP)—The Cleveland Plain Dealer will use tomorrow's editions the election line of Thomas E. Dewey as president, marking only the second time in the paper's 103-year history it has supported a Republican for the presidency. It advocated election of Wendell L. Willkie in 1940.

In a 1500-word editorial, the Plain Dealer asserted:

"Because it is no use to win the war and lose the America that we love, the Plain Dealer supports Thomas E. Dewey for the presidency."

Mrs. Roosevelt Visits Interracial
Hospital, Praises Spirit of Unity

NEW YORK, Sept. 6. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today toured Strydom hospital, described as the first in the nation to become interracial, and called its policy a "very encouraging demonstration" of the ability of negro and white physicians, employees and patients to get along together.

After visiting patients, clinics and laboratories, the first lady told a press conference she was enthusiastic about the "grand spirit and co-operative attitude" she said she noted in the institution.

Two negro reporters called her attention to a news story from Evergreen, Ala., quoting her as saying, "Social equality to me is what you have among friends and I don't see how you can legislate about social equality."

It is possible, however, to legislate concerning citizenship rights, she said, adding that she thought elimination of discrimination against the citizenship rights of a group would be followed eventually by elimination of social discrimination.

Decision Looms
In North Italy

By NOLAN NORGAARD

ROME, Sept. 6. (AP)—The decisive battle for Northern Italy, the broad stretches of the Po river valley, appeared near tonight after Eighth army troops plunged within five miles of Rimini on the Adriatic coast and Americans on the opposite end of the front seized Lucca, provincial capital ten miles north-east of Pisa.

Once Rimini is captured, Gen. Sir Harold Alexander will pour out onto the flatlands of Northern Italy the greatest armored striking force ever assembled in the Mediterranean area to proceed with the annihilation of Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring's armies.

Some of the fiercest fighting occurred around the key town of Coriano, seven miles south of Rimini and about two miles from the sea. Allied shock troops captured an important ridge running from Coriano to the coast and sent patrols for a time into the town itself.

The German parachute division, which met the first assault of the Canadians below Rimini and tried desperately for nearly a week to stem the advance, was said to have been so mauled that it was relieved.

Governors Confer
With Roosevelt

(By The Associated Press)

Governors of two southern states where anti-fourth term sentiment is reported strong talked with President Roosevelt at the White House yesterday.

Governor Coke Stevenson of Texas was the first to see Mr. Roosevelt and was followed later by Gov. James H. Davis of Louisiana. Both said they leave at the president's invitation.

Stevenson was reticent about any political discussion he may have had with the president but Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones, who went with him to the White House, said later that he supposed the governor and the president "naturally talked" about the Texas political situation.

Himself a Texan, Jones said he was "sure nobody short of God is going to straighten them out" in Texas but described as a good suggestion Stevenson's proposal that Texas have two states of Democratic electors in the November election.

Party Split Last May. The party split developed last May when a pro-Roosevelt faction walked out of the Texas Democratic convention after anti-Roosevelt delegates won test votes.

Davis told newsmen he and Roosevelt talked "very little politics" but that he had told the president of the political situation in his state. He predicted the president would carry Louisiana.

15 More Mines
Taken Over by
The GovernmentFederal Operation
Will Start Friday

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 6. (AP)—Three more Northern

West Virginia coal mines employing about 950 men were closed tonight by strikes of supervisory employees as the government took possession of six other strike-bound operations in three counties.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. (AP)—On direction of President Roosevelt, the Interior department took possession tonight of fifteen more bituminous coal mines tied up by strikes of supervisory employees.

The mines are operated by nine companies in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, employ 5,100 men and have a daily production of about 27,000 tons.

Will Reopen Tomorrow

Secretary Ickes announced that the mines will be opened for work Friday morning. He appointed high officials of the companies as federal operating managers.

The mines taken over today:

Glendale Gas Coal Company, Alexander mine, Moundsville, W. Va.

Hitchman Coal and Coke Company, Hitchman mine, Benwood, W. Va.

Kelley's Creek Colliery Company, Madsen mine, Madsen, W. Va.

Northwestern Mining and Exchange Company, Kramer mine, Du Bois, Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Corporation, No. 3 and No. 8 mines at Ehrenfeld, Penn., and No. 21 and No. 22 mines, Marsteller, Penn.

Republic Steel Corporation, Russellton mine, Russellton, Penn.

Hillman Coal and Coke Company, Oakmont mine, Barking, Penn.

Consolidation Coal Company, Renton No. 3 mine at Renton, Penn., and Renton No. 6 mine at North Bessemer, Penn.

Change in Policy

This seizure represented a sudden change in the government's policy. Heretofore all the mines of each company have been taken over, whether strike-bound or not, in order to preserve the company as an operating unit. Had this policy been continued, about seventy-five mines would have been taken over in this bunch, constituting the bituminous properties of the nine companies.

Strikes by supervisory employees have now resulted in government possession of thirty-three mines, owned by fifteen companies.

Dewey and Hull
Exchange Views

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee has written Secretary of State Hull saying that he is deeply gratified at the result of discussions between Hull and John Foster Dulles, Dewey's advisor on foreign affairs.

Dewey hailed them as "a new attitude toward the problem of peace," and told Hull that he felt with him to the White House, said later that he supposed the governor and the president "naturally talked" about the Texas political situation.

Himself a Texan, Jones said he was "sure nobody short of God is going to straighten them out" in Texas but described as a good suggestion Stevenson's proposal that Texas have two states of Democratic electors in the November election.

Siegfried Line No Stronger Than
Atlantic Wall, Officer Declares

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Sept. 6. (AP)—A senior staff officer at supreme headquarters said today that Germany's Siegfried line was no stronger than the overrun Atlantic wall. If as strong, and declared that "of course we're going to break it."

The question, he said, was where it would be broken, and he left that point for the Germans to worry about.

The officer stressed that the greatest problem for the German defense was insufficient manpower.

The staff officer, an authority on German defenses, emphasized the Siegfried line is not a line in the

Krug Predicts
Speedy Output
Of Necessities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. (AP)—American industry can turn out simultaneously the war materials needed to defeat Japan and more consumer goods than were produced in 1939, the prewar peak year. War Production Board Chairman J. A. Krug said today.

Krug predicted that soon after Germany's defeat every civilian item that is "really needed" will be appearing again on the shelves of stores.

Will Lift Restrictions. The WPB chairman made this forecast in a news conference discussion of last night's WPB announcement that virtually all restrictions on civilian production will be lifted when the European phase of the war ends.

Krug said the WPB is aiming at reconversion without "cumbersome red tape," but that industry itself "must carry the ball."

"We will remove every possible obstacle so that industry can move forward boldly," he said, "but we are not going to supervise civilian production from here. We can help industry, but we cannot take over the job."

Krug cautioned that announcement of the reconversion plan should not be taken to mean that Germany's defeat is already at hand.

Predicts Surprise. While looking for "some dislocations and delays," Krug predicted the people would be surprised by the speed with which industry can resume the production of civilian goods.

He said one automobile manufacturer had advised that he could get into production within three months, but Krug avoided speculation as to how long it would be until people can buy all they want of such things as cars, radios, washing machines, refrigerators and electric ranges.

Key Official Quits. Just before he met with reporters to discuss the reconversion plan, Krug announced he had accepted "with great reluctance" the resignation of Operations Vice Chairman L. R. Boulware.

Boulware disclosed he had submitted his resignation on the day Krug took charge in the "sincere conviction that the activities of WPB will be freer of the possibility of further public controversy" if Krug had a new chairman "known to be completely of your own choosing."

Boulware is being succeeded by Hiland G. Batcheller, who, incidentally, preceded him as operations vice chairman.

Japs Will Get
Tougher in Air
Forrestal Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. (AP)—Japan's air forces will be tougher to handle in the coming phases of the Pacific war, Navy Secretary Forrestal said today, because they are now concentrated and have improved the quality of their planes.

"The fight will be a long and hard one," Forrestal told a news conference.

But he was confident that the still expanding air and sea forces of the United States would blast the Japanese from their "substantial major bases" which he said would be "better defended and better manned" as American forces move closer to Japan.

"A year ago," Forrestal explained, "they (the Japanese) were forced to supply planes to an immense Pacific area ranging from the Gilberts and Marshalls through the Solomons, New Ireland, New Britain and the Indies. Thanks to the fact that these bases have been captured or bypassed by the United States, the Japs are relieved of the responsibility of supplying them with planes. They can mass their air power now in the narrowing theater of action—the Philippines, China and Japan proper."

In addition to this concentration of enemy air power, Forrestal said, the Japanese probably will also have more planes.

"The Japs have obviously been saving their planes for the engagements to come," he said. "Except for the battle of the Eastern Philippines, they have not risked a big aerial combat for many months."

Another reason the air war "is bound to get tougher," Forrestal said, "is that the Jap has recently made many important technical improvements in his aircraft."

Third Army Held
Up, but First
Is AdvancingBelgian Defenses
Reported Broken

By WILLIAM F. BONT

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Thursday, Sept. 7. (AP)—The swift, Germany-bound drive of the United States Third Army has been stalled for almost a week by lagging supplies, but in the north, American First Army tanks in mass formations were on the move eastward toward Liege after leaping across the Meuse river and breaching the Nazis' Belgian defenses before the Reich field dispatches disclosed today.

The First army drive was along at least a twenty-five-mile front, and supreme headquarters indicated it was operating from three secure bridgeheads over the Meuse at Namur.

Real Battle Starts

Associated Press correspondent Don Whitehead, with the First army, said the Third Army had started the real battle for Germany, and that as infantry and armor pushed relentlessly toward the Nazi homeland, the rate of advance soon would bring it within range of Allied big guns.

The Americans poured across the Meuse after rounding up hordes of Germans in the Mook trap. They stormed the river banks where the Germans were waiting in a midnight thrust Tuesday, and a battle raged all day, Whitehead wrote. Some of the fighting, he said, was the hardest since the St. Lo breakthrough.

Heavy Fighting Reported

On the Americans' southern flank, supplies and necessity for regrouping stopped the Third army's swift drive toward the German border, and reinforced Nazis taking advantage of the lull have begun their first real stand since the Allied Normandy breakthrough, other front dispatches disclosed.

A heavy battle raged in the Moselle valley invasion corridor. An American mechanized cavalry column smashed through stubborn resistance to within four miles of Metz, key city on the French side of the Siegfried line. But as the Yanks closed in on the stronghold, every yard of ground was being contested bitterly.

Supplies Reach Yanks

After the enforced halt supplies finally have caught up with the Third army, but the Germans, fleeing in confusion a week ago, have had time to regroup and reorganize, front dispatches disclosed.

Associated Press Correspondent Wes Gallagher wrote from the front that temporarily, at least, the brunt of battle against the newly reinforced German strongpoints has been turned over to the over-ready infantry, which must drive a wedge across the Moselle at Pont-a-Mousson was beaten back."

German Resistance
Reported Stronger

LONDON, Sept. 6. (AP)—The Germans, reporting their resistance stiffened in both the Nancy-Metz area and in Belgium, claimed a firm defense line was beginning to shape on the western front.

The Nazi high command conceded the fighting in Belgium was a play for time, "for every day gained is for the protection of the Reich."

Propagandist Josef Goebbels proclaimed "the German people are braced for total war and are poised to receive the enemy on homeland soil."

The commentator Sertorius said Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., was meeting stiffer opposition and claimed that the Allied attempt to cross the Moselle at Pont-a-Mousson was beaten back."

Many Processed Foods Will Soon
Be Returned to Non-Ration Status

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. (AP)—Virtually all processed foods other than canned fruits will be returned to prewar non-rationed status in ten days, the White House announced today, and a War Food Administration spokesman indicated that additional meat also may be made ration-free soon.

War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes directed the removal from rationing on September 17 of these items:

All jams, jellies, fruit butters, asparagus beans, corn, peas, pumpkin and squash, mixed vegetables, baked beans, tomato sauce, paste and puree, and all varieties of soups and baby foods.

Byrnes acted on the recommendation of Marvin Jones, WFA administrator, who had advised that the removal of these foods justified the step.

All other canned vegetables except tomatoes are ration-free at present and are expected to con-

FIRST CLAIMS ARE HANDLED HERE UNDER G.I. BILL

The local office of the Maryland Compensation Board began Tuesday to handle its first claims for unemployment compensation under the federal provisions of the G.I. Bill of Rights, which took effect Sunday, according to Robert E. King of the claims department.

King stated that all servicemen and women, except those dishonorably discharged, can obtain either state or federal unemployment compensation to cover temporary periods of unemployment following their discharge from the armed forces.

If a veteran is entitled to state compensation earned during 1943 and payable after April 1, 1944, during the current year, he receives that first and federal compensation second, King said.

Weekly allowances are available for federal unemployment compensation if the discharged serviceman or woman is not covered by a state program. It is necessary to be served at least ninety days to be eligible for state compensation.

For those completely unemployed the allowance is $20 a week. If a veteran is partially unemployed the difference between the wage and weekly allowance, plus $3, is received. Allowances remaining unpaid at death do not become a part of the estate.

Illness or disability which occurs during a period of unemployment for which allowances have already started do not disqualify veterans for federal compensation. Under the state unemployment compensation law, veterans are required to be available for possible employment, King said.

Missing Flier Becomes Father of Baby Boy

A son was born to Tech Sgt. and Mrs. Gerald W. Grady, 924 Maryland avenue in Memorial hospital Sunday evening. Mrs. Grady is the former Miss Wilda Lovenstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lovenstein, 924 Maryland avenue.

Sgt. Grady has been reported missing in action over Romania since June 23 and members of his family hope that he may be among the 1,126 American fliers who were returned to Italy recently following Romania's surrender to and alliance with the United Nations.

Mr. Jordan died Tuesday evening in Allegany hospital as a result of injuries he suffered when, officers said, he walked against the back of a moving car on Valley street. Police said E. S. Halston, Wilton Brook road, was the driver of the car.

Couple Will Receive Hearing on Charges Of Disorderly Conduct

William McMillan and his wife Mrs. Pearl McMillan, of Gay street, will be given hearings in police court this morning on charges of disorderly conduct as a result, police said, of a family squabble on South Mechanic street last evening at 8:50 o'clock.

McMillan, who was released after he posted $10 bond, was arrested by Officers Arthur Kennell and William Valentine opposite the Queen City dairy. Bystanders told police that Mrs. McMillan escaped after beating her husband with her shoe.

Police said Mrs. McMillan was held after she came to the police station later to complain about her husband's actions.

Harold Stephen Hughes, about 46, of 88 Winow street, will be given a hearing in police court this morning on a charge of being drunk.

He was arrested late yesterday afternoon at the Electric Service Company shop, 188 Winow street, after police were notified by a customer that an unconscious man was found on the floor of the shop.

Officers John W. Snyder and Valentine rushed to the scene, believing from the report that Hughes might have been a victim of electrical shock.

DISTRICT SEMINAR WILL BE HELD HERE FRIDAY

The Hagerstown District Seminar will be held tomorrow at Centre Street Methodist church with six conference officers in charge of the program. The general topic of the seminar, which will begin at 10:30 o'clock will be "Missionary Education," and will be under the leadership of Mrs. Samuel Rose, Washington, D. C., secretary of missionary education.

Classes on similar themes will also be given under the leadership of Miss Lillie Rockwell, Berkeley Springs, W. Va.; Mrs. Harry Marsh, Hagerstown; Mrs. Paul Boki, Baltimore, who will bring special word for the young girls of the district; and Mrs. Louis Dashiell, Hyattsville, will have charge of a table of literature and publications.

Members of the Frostburg society, under the direction of Mrs. John G. Cook, will present a playlet entitled, "Pueblo Pioneers."

Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock with Mrs. Lester Heinrich's Circle No. 7 as hostesses. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Heinrich.

Five Men Are Assigned To Local MP Section

Sgt. C. W. Chandler, non commissioned officer in charge of the local MP section, announced yesterday that five new enlisted men have been assigned to the military police detail here. They are:

Sgt. Chester Shiffler, of Altoona, Pa., former desk sergeant of the Altoona police department.

Cpl. A. T. Anderson, of Portsmouth, Va., who served as patrolman on the Portsmouth police force before he entered service.

Pfc. John Donnelly, of Philadelphia; Pfc. Milton Dumire, of Pennsylvania, and Pfc. William Neil, Jr., also of Pennsylvania.

The newly assigned MPs will replace Cpl. Thayer Wise, Pfc. Daniel Gorman, Pfc. Richard Maeder, Pfc. Walter Sampson and Pfc. Martin Poniat, who were transferred to Baltimore for assignments.

16 American

They were highlighted by her almost legendary organization and leadership of many Maquis groups on the French Riviera, and climaxed by a fantastic D-day race to elude the Gestapo.

She is best known as "the girl with the blonde meche." Fredericka was her secret underground name. Friends simply call her Miss Pell, their acceptance of the "Miss" rather than the French "Mademoiselle" being an indication of their high regard.

Today she is serving literally as unofficial "chief of staff" for the American general whose troops are fighting eastward along the Riviera. She is organizing both resistance and rehabilitation work.

"She is an amazing woman," the general said. "She keeps going day and night. I send word to her and she gets things done in about a tenth the time it would take anybody else. The French are crazy about her and do everything she tells them."

This doesn't surprise Miss Pell, daughter of the late Osmond Pell, socially prominent New York real estate man. She refused to return to her New York apartment four years ago because of her faith in the French.

Isabel Pell had been coming to her summer home in the little village of Aubreau Signe, halfway between Cannes and Grasse, for many years. When the war broke out she started raising money — which eventually totaled more than 2,000,000 francs — for the French.

Much of this was spent in underground activity.

Third Army

through which Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's armor once again can start German flight in motion.

The Third army, after having sent reconnaissance patrols across the border last Sunday and into Germany itself, first met strong resistance at Jouvaville, eight miles northwest of Metz, Gallagher said. There the Germans, their backs against the last-ditch defenses of the fatherland, met the Americans with 88s, mortars and anti-tank guns.

Americans Cross Moselle

Below Metz a bridgehead, now firmly held, has been thrown across the Moselle, and Americans poured across this last great water barrier before Germany's short of the Rhine itself, and pointed a new threat from the east bank toward the fatherland and the Siegfried line.

Hitler's forces are expected to be able to offer nothing more than heavy delaying actions while the border defenses of the Reich are strengthened.

While the Third army bears the brunt of the frontal assault on the Reich, the British second and American first armies are driving toward other border defenses.

154,000 Prisoners Taken

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army is pushing ahead swiftly on a broad front from three bridgeheads over the Meuse and south of liberated Namur in Belgium. His total bag of prisoners from the Mons pocket in the last three days jumped to 25,000, including two major generals, and raised the first army's prisoner total since D-day to 154,000.

This brought to more than 230,000 the total prisoner haul of the American First and Third Armies. Patton's forces having captured 78,000.

Canadians and Poles, who, with the British are assaulting the pocketed German troops on the Pas de Calais coast — official estimates placed the number of trapped Germans there at about 50,000 — have reached Cassel, ten miles northeast of St. Omer, which the Poles have occupied. They also have reached Marquise between the besieged ports of Boulogne and Calais.

The great surge forward by the British and Canadian and the two American armies had placed a severe strain on the supply situation.

Gallagher wrote that officers with Patton believed if his forces could have continued their pace, the Third army would have driven straight into Germany before the Nazis had time to prepare Moselle defenses or positions on the Siegfried line.

School Prospects Held Satisfactory

By FRED STABLEY

BALTIMORE, Sept. 6. (P)—Despite the loss of approximately 1,800 teachers from the Maryland public school system, the overall prospects for this school year were viewed today by Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., as no worse than last year.

The state school superintendent disclosed that the turnover of teachers last year was more than three times the peace time normal, amounting to approximately thirty-five per cent of those employed.

Final reports on teachers working, size of student bodies and adequacy of school facilities would not be available until all schools began fall sessions, Dr. Pullen said.

May Have

was heralded by an order of the day from Premier Stalin and a twelve-salvo salute from 124 Moscow guns.

The advance was pressed through some of the thickest defensive positions on the whole eastern front and succeeded in clearing the east bank of the Narew river, an important German line, the Soviet communiqué said.

Stalin's recognition of the success may mean the armies there have been ordered to invade East Prussia from the southern underside.

Warsaw, already outflanked at a distance, was still the scene of bitter fighting, with the Russians announcing they had improved their positions northeast of the suburb of Praga and had recaptured Wolomin, ten miles northeast, which has changed hands several times.

Army Announces

be required in Europe is still a wide open guess.

It is certain to be considerably larger than the force of something over 200,000 men which comprised the American army of occupation in Germany in 1918-19, and is expected to stay in Europe longer than the few months that army remained. The "army of occupation" ceased to exist in July 1919, but the "American forces in Germany," a total of only 6,800 men, remained there three years.)

A bill of complaint was filed in circuit court yesterday by Allen B. Hart against Leola C. Hart.

Americans, Reds Closing in on German Centers

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Coincident with official Allied disclosure of first American patrol penetrations of German frontiers from the west came Moscow announcement of Red army capture of the Nazi's Narew river bastion of Ostroleka northeast of Warsaw to mock Berlin claims that the east front in Poland had been "stabilized."

Russian capture of that stronghold and close investment of Pulask, the central anchor of the Narew line guarding Warsaw and the Danzig corridor approaches to the Baltic or Berlin, is the obvious beginning of the end of the German stand on the Vistula.

Details Kept Secret

The rift in the Allied security curtain was too small to disclose more of the present Allied dispositions than that American patrols had stabbed into Germany via the Lorraine gateway three days ago and withdrawn again to the now wide and deep bridgehead east of the Moselle between Metz and Nancy.

To the south the known gap between Patton's right flank and the Seventh army speeding toward the Belfort-Mulhouse gap on the Rhine had dwindled to a scant three score miles. Patton's troops probably are trying to cut the foe off from the Belfort escape hatch and annihilate him between the Third and Seventh armies.

Nazi Plight Serious

The Nazi plight in Italy is hardly less precarious. The Rimini anchor on the Adriatic end of the German gothic defense line may soon fall. Allied turning of the Rimini corner must inevitably force a Nazi evacuation of the whole Gothic line of all Italy south of the Alps probably. Eventually, the Allies might sweep around into the Balkan peninsula for a junction with Russian forces there.

For the moment, however, it is at the Lorraine gateway from France to Germany and down the Vistula Corridor from the east that the most ominous Allied and Russian threats menace tottering Nazi Germany. That was reflected in General Eisenhower's broadcast calling upon enslaved French or other labor in industrial Germany to begin at least passive resistance.

Use of contact lenses has increased greatly in recent years and now it is estimated that about 60,000 persons throughout the world use these aids to vision, according to the Better Vision Institute.

Reproof by a Great Democrat Is Timely

FOURTH-TERMERS are being plagued from day to day by quotations from former Democratic exemplars.

There is, for example, a message to the public which once came out of Albany, N. Y.

"When an election to office," it stated, "shall be the selection by the voters of one of their number to assume for a time a public trust instead of his dedication to the profession of politics; when the holders of the ballot, quickened by a sense of duty, shall avenge truth betrayed and pledges broken, and when the suffrage shall be altogether free and uncorrupted, the full realization of a government by the people will be at hand."

"And of the means to this end, not one would, in my judgment, be more effective than an amendment to the constitution disqualifying the president from re-election."

When we consider the patronage of this great office, the allurements of power, the temptation to retain public place once gained, and more than all, the availability of a party finds in an incumbent whom a horde of office holders, with a zeal born of benefits received and fostered by the hopes of favors yet to come, stand ready to aid with money and trained political service, we recognize in the eligibility of the president for re-election a most serious danger to that calm, deliberate and intelligent political action which must characterize a government by the people.

These words were written by Grover Cleveland in his letter of acceptance as nominee of the Democratic party for president. It makes especially good reading now for it is even more timely than it was when Cleveland wrote it August 18, 1884.

The fourth-termers are not circulating this pronouncement, referring to it for obvious reasons. They are aware that President Roosevelt retains his place of power by means of bought votes and hopes to continue in it largely by the same means.

Precision Weapons

A REMARKABLE PHASE of the war is the development and use of precision instruments and weapons. It is something, too, which carries a solemn warning for the establishment and maintenance of an enduring peace.

For the nonce, this nation and its allies may thank their lucky stars for the development because precision weapons and instruments of almost every description have been largely responsible for the appalling debacle of the Germans in France.

The scientific manner in which this war is being fought was never better demonstrated than by the invasion of the British battleship Rodney. The ship was assigned to the task of silencing a strong coastal battery on the Channel Island of Alderney, which was interfering with operations of the fleet supporting the invasion troops.

The Rodney proceeded to a position twenty miles off shore and dropped seventy-five shells on the target with such accuracy that it was never able to return the fire. After weighing anchor, the Rodney then returned to its home port.

The most interesting part of the story is that the commander had been ordered not to hit a town—Saint Anne—which lay 600 feet behind the target—and it was not touched.

An Excellent Radio Speaking Schedule

HERBERT BROWNELL, Jr., Republican national chairman, and his aides are to be commended for their radio speaking arrangements. Those arranged lately and for several future schedules have involved short, pithy talks by Republican governors of only five minutes each, usually three in a fifteen-minute program with the radio switching instantly to different parts of the country for the messages. The short talks are, to the notion of this newspaper, much more effective than the long harangues to which voters were accustomed to listen in bygone campaigns.

There will, of course, be some more important occasions when the speaking will be somewhat longer, but even these will be an improvement as to length because of the realization that the shorter a talk now is the better. For example, there will be the acceptance speech by Governor John W. Bricker, of Ohio, vice-presidential nominee, to be delivered this coming Saturday night at French Lick Springs, Ind., which will be carried on the NBC, CBS and MBS complete networks. The time is 9:30 until 10 o'clock. Citizens should listen in for this talk particularly as Governor Bricker is a fine speaker who gets directly to a point and makes stick with facts and figures, and they will be able to get some real campaign information from him.

Governor O'Connor Takes A Commendable Step

THIS NEWSPAPER has for some time urged the temporary suspension of tuition fees at the state teachers' colleges as the most practicable means of coping with a serious teacher shortage in the state resulting from wartime conditions. It can therefore heartily commend the action of Governor O'Connor, just reported from Annapolis, in announcing that these fees will be waived after the present scholastic year.

The fee now charged students at the colleges is $100 a year. Waiving it will cost the state upward of $55,000 annually, but, as the governor states, we can afford this in order to attract to the teaching profession numbers of persons who might otherwise take up other vocations.

The governor acknowledges the seriousness of the teacher shortage situation, noting that the enrollment in the teachers' colleges has declined enormously since about the beginning of the war. During the 1944-45 academic year a total of 546 students was enrolled as compared with 1,067 in 1939-40. This is about only half of normal times while the need for teachers is now several times as great as under ordinary conditions.

The governor pays just tribute to the school teachers who have remained loyally at their posts, despite attractive offers in the various industries. They are, as he says, entitled to the gratitude of the public. Our educational obligations are normally of first importance but in these trying war times they are greater than ever, and no means should be spared to fulfill them.

A Worthy Official And Good Citizen

THE PEOPLE of Allegany county have lost a dependable and efficient public servant in the passing of George Edward Jordan, who held the position of register of wills for nine years past and who formerly for twenty odd years served as a deputy in the office and had other public service as city and county tax collector.

In all that long period of service, Mr. Jordan was invariably and uniformly courteous, even-tempered and obliging in his many contacts with the public but withal he was animated with a zeal for efficiency in the conduct of his offices and for fair treatment for all having business therein. His temperament as well as his ability was ideal for public work of the kind in which the people, in recognition of his worth, so long retained him.

The Republican party suffers a distinct loss in the passing of this man. He served the party organization faithfully and well. He was an ardent and consistent advocate of the party's principles and did much more than the average member's share in furthering them. Fraternal circles will miss him, too, as he took an active part therein. All in all, the county mourns over the departure of this splendid official and forthright citizen sincerely and with deep regret that his beaming face will no more be seen at the court house and among the friends with whom he was ever welcome.

Assurance Is Needed For Postwar Business

IN ORDER to set up funds for reconversion and the postwar expansions that mean maximum employment, business needs prompt assurance against future competition from government-owned war plants.

The government is said to have a controlling interest in three-fourths of the country's new industrial plants. Built with public funds, these projects for the most part have been operated by private management in our almost miraculous production for victory.

Government operation of these plants after the war would mean, in effect, that private industry was being taxed to subsidize tax-free, publicly-owned competitors. Facing such unfair and ruinous conditions, manufacturers would get a cold reception from the investing public.

Venture capital demands the possibility of a fair profit to offset the possibility of loss. If unfair competition renders profit unlikely and loss almost certain, wise men will not risk their savings.

To clear the road so that business and industry can create a better postwar economy, Congress should give assurance now that all government-owned plants not needed for national defense shall be leased or sold to private owners.

The Mexican who devised a new music system, dividing each tone into sixteen parts, has given the saxophone players something to think about.

The War Food Administration is talking of releasing surplus cheese, fearful if kept much longer some varieties may walk out under their own power.

That new Harvard calculating machine which can solve any problem, should certainly have a seat at the peace table.

If the doorless telephone booth is here to stay that means no longer will we be able to get a steam bath for a nickel.

Every Man Looks For Beauty

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Every man looks for beauty. And whether he finds it or it eludes him forever—well, that depends entirely on the searching powers of his own soul.

I'm not saying he is looking only for the shapely, the desirable in form, for the beauty that comes in feminine guise. . . . This man may see and admire, although he may not always possess it. And nearly every day I see the face of some lovely lady in the paper and she is complaining that a man who had said he loved her has wearied of her charms and has slammed the door as he walked out.

Nor do I mean that he searches the fields for a perfect flower. Nor that he climbs to mountain peaks and gazes over the glory beneath him. Nor that he walks the beaches and admires the pretty pebbles. . . . He may adore the lovely lady, seek the perfect scene, praise the shining jewel and call them all beauty—but in his heart he seeks the more enduring perfection. . . . Something else, something stronger, drives him on.

Actually he is always striving for some adjustment between his own spirit and the life around him. And when he finds this, he knows that it is his and that he has found happiness. . . . He seeks it in perfection relationship with his fellows, with men and women and children, with fellow workers with those the world so loosely terms his "inferiors" and his "superiors." He seeks it in animals, in growing things, in the adjustment and regulation of all his days and nights. He wants his life to be consistent and homogenous. He strives for consistency throughout his whole life for peace that is neither sad renunciation nor mean surrender. . . . And when he finds this he finds the greatest beauty.

If he gives up this search he abandons all hope of peace and happiness. . . . He has failed.

A TOUCH OF TRAVEL SICKNESS

Job of Feeding Hungry Europe Is Done By Army, Leaving UNRRA Workless

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—No one thumbs his nose at Santa Claus, eh? You have not heard of UNRRA, the great government agency under ex-Governor Lehman, created to feed a world that was supposed to be starving and expected to rehabilitate a world laid waste.

An especially tight censorship, imposed by the army, has prevented the accurate extent of UNRRA's predicament, failure or checkmate from becoming publicly judged. It may be that the army has accumulated great stores of food itself, far beyond any possible needs, and intends to perform itself whatever feeding is found necessary in Europe. Perhaps also Britain is overstocked.

A good Washington authority on the subject has estimated hundreds of millions of pounds of canned goods—meats, fish, fruit, milk, vegetables—in government-owned storage, and says the government does not know what to do with it all. He says the army alone can feed Europe for six months or more.

Army Probably Doesn't Know

Maybe, the army does not wish the extent of its overbuying to be known, but I suspect the truth is the army does not even itself know exactly what it has because its stores are scattered in so many places around the world under different ownership (transfers of service titles).

Certainly it is true both the army and State Secretary Hull, coughed in their sleeves whenever UNRRA is mentioned. They have always appeared to consider it a somewhat political or emotionally-inspired outfit, created by Mr. Roosevelt to satisfy those Wallace devotees who will insist on feeding the world whether or not it is hungry, and feeding it a quart of milk a day even if for generations it has spurned milk.

But no longer can this be entirely concealed. The European governments do not like UNRRA, do not want it, and we do not know or have not begun to know how much starvation there is in Europe or likely to be.

Own Shows Wanted

The governments which are beginning to take back their liberated countries want to run their own shows themselves and are telling us, Gen. DeGaulle, in his statement on the liberation of Paris, first praised the French for having liberated their own country, then, in the next paragraph said the United Nations also did great work along that line. The Americans or British were not mentioned by name in the liberation statement.

These people look at themselves first, naturally, and they consider their countries their own, not our UNRRA proposed to go in and set up things for them, but it has not gone anywhere yet, and Italy, held now for some months, has been handled by the army and the civilian administration. It prepared for that purpose. As matters now stand the army apparently intends to handle the rest of Europe the same way.

Through the censorship enough fragmentary light is developing in the press reports to raise a question whether the line our officials have been dining into us chiefly on the radio for months is even near the right world-feeding track.

No Destitution Found

Upon landing in Normandy, our troops found no destitution, but eggs, milk and vegetables, even wheat more plentiful than in the England they had just left. Paris reports, since the liberation, uniformly suggest the people look and claim to be in good health.

But this only proves we do not know, and not necessarily that feeding is unnecessary. An adult may live well on a cereal diet, but a check of the Parisian children hospitals might disclose a different result in tuberculosis.

For Italy, the North African wheat supply has been lost by failure of the crop, but thrifty farmers in the mountainous regions there are reported to have buried their grain.

concealing it from the Nazis during occupation. Indeed, the published reports attribute the Italian food shortage to administrative mismanagement and poor handling by our army people or civilian followers.

Questionable Reports

Denmark has been reported to have a larger dairy cattle population than before the war, but these reports seem questionable because Denmark relied entirely on imported protein feed from us, and no one can see where she could have received a war supply.

These reports lend some credibility to one inside government story that Mr. Roosevelt suspected this condition and gave Lehman, most of the government buying being done by the Commodity Credit and Farm Credit outfits.

It may be too much, however, to say UNRRA has folded for lack of business. Government bureaus never fold. They are merely superseded by other bureaus and allowed to draw their pay thereafter in perpetual obscurity, as far as possible from the public eye.

Election Margin Is Seen Affected By Class Appeal

By MARK SULLIVAN

Choice of Labor day as the time and of labor organizations as sponsors and audiences, for Vice-Presidential Candidate Truman's first campaign speeches, may have been an uncalculated incident. Nevertheless it is a sign of the pattern this campaign as a whole is likely to take. The pattern is borne out and made more definite by President Roosevelt's choice of another labor organization, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, as sponsor and audience for his first "political" speech of the campaign, September 22.

Partly this emphasis on appeal to organized labor is a voluntary choice on the part of the candidate. Partly it is a consequence of conditions growing up over the twelve years of the New Deal, and coming to a climax in Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy for a fourth term. This concentration of appeal to a special class of voters is unprecedented in American political history. In past campaigns, both parties have made appeals to labor as incidents of the campaign, along with appeals to farmers and other groups. It will be the same this year with the Republicans. But with the Democratic candidates, appeals to labor compose the main concentration of the campaign.

Labor Groups Differ

From this flows another aspect of the campaign. One group of organized labor, the Congress of Industrial Organizations, is the object of special appeal by Mr. Roosevelt, has been specially associated with his administration, and is especially active in support of him. This in contrast with other labor organizations, the American Federation of Labor and the railroad brotherhoods, which have followed their long-standing rule of not endorsing any presidential candidate, and which in fact are by no means as strong for Mr. Roosevelt as is CIO. From this special relation CIO and Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy, arises an effect on other groups of voters. It is illustrated by a remarkable poll of Minnesota, taken by the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune. The question asked was:

If the CIO supported a candidate, would you be more likely to vote for that candidate, or against him?

To that question, fifty per cent of the persons polled answered "against him," only eight per cent "for him." Twenty-seven per cent said it would make no difference, and fifteen per cent said they were undecided.

Farming Influence Seen

While this Minnesota poll covered all groups of voters, it is a fact that the state contains a large number of farmers, and likely that the poll reflects the attitude of this group of voters everywhere. In any event it is generally accepted that the farm sections of the country are rather strongly against Mr. Roosevelt in this campaign.

The Gallup nation-wide poll shows a decline of farm support for Mr.

Roosevelt from fifty-nine per cent in the actual election of 1936, and fifty-four per cent in 1940, down to forty-five per cent as measured by the present poll. In some farm states the decline is from above forty per cent in 1936 to below forty per cent this year. The entire eleven states composing the farm territory of the Midwest are listed tentatively as Republican by the Gallup poll; and also a border state, Missouri, the home state of Mr. Truman, which has a large farm population. It would be rare to find so violent a change by farmers or any other considerable group of voters, in so short a period of time.

Asset and Liability

It is commonly said that CIO is both an asset to Mr. Roosevelt and a liability to him. CIO's activity in the campaign has been strongly disapproved by spokesmen of the other great labor organizations, AFL and the railroad brotherhoods. At the same time considerable numbers of members of those organizations, and some local branches of AFL, however they may feel about CIO as a labor organization, nevertheless go along with it in support of Mr. Roosevelt.

In one respect CIO is a valuable asset to Mr. Roosevelt—its work in getting voters to register and vote. In state after state, polls show a margin of one or two per cent one way or the other. In Gallup polls, such large states as New York, Dewey by fifty-two per cent of the total vote. New Jersey by fifty-one per cent. Such large states as Pennsylvania and Massachusetts are assigned to Mr. Roosevelt by fifty-two per cent.

This margin of one or two per cent is just the margin that often decides an election by registering and going to the polls, or neglecting to do so. And this margin might be swung to Mr. Roosevelt by CIO's extraordinary energy and thoroughness in getting voters to register and vote.

Wise Leadership Is Seen Insuring Security League

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The international security league which is to endeavor to preserve peace after this war will not be wrecked on the same rock that prevented American participation in the league of nations.

"This seems assured already because of the wise and statesmanlike attitude being taken by most Republican and Democratic leaders in Congress in penetrating the real issue involved under our constitutional procedure when American armed forces are to be employed. Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, Republican, has rightly stated that the instructions given to the American delegate or ambassador sitting on the executive council of the international security league is a matter that concerns only the internal operations of our own government. The manner and method by which such an ambassador is instructed to vote in a given contingency is something that must conform to American custom and procedure and has nothing to do with the provisions of any treaty.

Old League Mistake
The Republican mistake after World War I was in trying to write

into the treaty covering the covenant of the League of Nations a reservation specifying that America would not use her armed forces and would undertake no obligations except with the consent of Congress. The debate at that time centered not on how the United States would fulfill its obligations once undertaken, but on whether a provision apparently nullifying the obligation should actually be included in the covenant.

There would be no difficulty at all if the use of force were to be confined to those instances in which, as in the past, the president of the United States ordered the army and navy to repel attack or protect our nationals. Little doubt exists that the president can act to repel invasion or an attack on points in Central or South America without asking Congress for authority. But the real problem arises when there is a dispute, for example, between Rumania and Hungary, in which the United States is not directly concerned. The question then is, would the president have the authority to order our army and navy and air force to the scene of such action?

Ratification Preferable

The preferable way to accomplish the desired result—namely, to employ whatever forces are necessary to preserve peace—is to ratify the treaty in which the United States undertakes an obligation to preserve world peace and then have a separate declaration publicly made by the president of the United States, and perhaps concurred in by both houses of Congress, outlining for future years the procedure that shall be adopted in instructing our ambassador to the council of the international security organization.

There are some persons who are arguing that in a world crisis such a procedure in asking Congress for authority would be dilatory. On the contrary, a vigilant president would not wait until a crisis had developed to learn from Congress how our ambassador should be instructed to vote when the peace of the world is threatened. Thus, going back over the period of 1933 to 1939, while Hitler was in power in Europe, it is evident that there were many occasions when the peace of the world was threatened and when the president of the United States could have asked for authority to use the forces of this country in conjunction with the forces of other countries to put down any threats to world peace.

Rhineland Seizure an Example

In 1936, for example, when Hitler was very weak and yet marched into the Rhineland, if England, Russia, China and the United States had acted in unison, Hitler could have been expelled from the Rhineland and he would have been informed that these four nations intended to use their forces to cancel this act of aggression.

If, of course, the Congress of the United States should become unwilling at any time to fulfill the obligation explicitly assumed under the treaty, namely, to preserve peace by joint action, it would be only because American public opinion was ready to repudiate the treaty. Any treaty is subject to denunciation by the president or Congress at any time.

Such a contingency could, of course, arise, but no action of any president or Congress can be foreclosed in advance and all that can be outlined now is the procedure which will make it possible for a president of the United States long in advance of a crisis to appeal to Congress and get authority to use armed forces in the event that some incipient act of aggression should in the opinion of the executive council of the league appear to be of such a nature as likely to cause a widespread conflagration.

Thad Phibbs' Formula for Fun

Thad Phibbs has a theory of enjoyment all his own. The more tired he is from working at the War Plant, the more fun he has pitching horseshoes with the boys these summer evenings.

"That's because I feel that I deserve it," Thad says simply.

And I wonder if he isn't right. I wonder if we don't enjoy things in proportion as we know we've earned them. Is a little relaxation ever more welcome than after a hard day's work? Do we appreciate our little pleasures quite as much when we know in our hearts we've done a good job well?

From where I sit, that's one of the things this wartime strain has taught us. We're all of us working hard at our jobs, doing our level best to pull our weight. And we're learning the little rewards, the simple pleasures—a home-cooked meal, a glass of beer with friends—are more welcome now than ever—because we've earned them!

Gives You 50% MORE HEAT at 1/2 the Cost

One filling of the magazine lasts several days in average weather—one filling per day is enough for coldest weather. Burns more of the coal—only a fine ash remains. No muss—ash falls into removable container in dust-tight compartment. Ashes need be removed in hands container only once every few days in normal weather. Produces far less ash than any other stove, because combustion is so complete. It is the world's most economical coal heater—reduces heating bills by more than two-thirds in many cases. Light, compact and it will burn all winter without rekindling. No smelly odor. No soot. No soil furniture or curtains. It is a circulating heater—not a radiant type—thus making it possible to heat the whole house while maintaining a comfortable temperature in room where it is installed. The only coal heater with automatic thermostatic control—no dampers to watch. The famous Conservator is finished in black porcelain enamel to assure long life. Easy to keep clean and shining. ## Voters Who Are Absolutely Sure To Vote in November Favor Dewey

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion
Princeton, N. J., Sept. 5 — The chances of a Roosevelt victory in November will depend to a very marked extent on how successful the Democrats are during the next two months in getting the maximum number of people interested enough in the campaign to register and vote.

At this stage, three-fourths of the people who make up the present civilian voting population say they are "absolutely certain" that they will vote in the presidential election.

If only this group and no one else voted in November, Thomas D. Dewey would win, judging by the evidence from an Institute survey. The proportion who say they are absolutely certain to vote totals 37,500,000 out of the estimated 50,

000,000 who constitute the present civilian voting population. These 37,500,000 divide on Dewey and Roosevelt as follows:

For Dewey	51%
(19,000,000)
For Roosevelt	49%
(18,500,000)

There is no assurance, of course, that all the people who claim they are certain to vote will actually do so. But the above figures do indicate that the Republicans tend to have a slight advantage among individual voters most deeply interested in the campaign, and hence most likely to turn out and vote.

On the other hand, the Democrats have an advantage among the people who are not so positive that they will vote in November. This group totals an estimated 12,500,000, of whom about 7,500,000 say they are only "fairly certain" about voting, and 5,000,000 say that they are either not certain or do not plan to vote at all.

In both groups, Roosevelt's lead is substantial. The "fairly certain" group divides 56 per cent for Roosevelt, 44 per cent for Dewey. The others divide 65 per cent for Roosevelt, 35 per cent for Dewey.

Hence it is of crucial importance to the Roosevelt camp that Democratic leaders make every effort to induce these people to go to the polls and vote.

Meet the Braising Cuts of Beef

The Beauty of Braising . . . . It gives much of the brown of broiling, the flavor of roasting, the tenderness of simmering—and isn't the gravy good!

You folks who "like it lean" are certainly getting a break in beef these days. Much of the beef now coming to market is those good lean cuts, most deliciously prepared by the braising method.

—short ribs, pot roasts, Swiss steaks, country fried steaks—and plenty of that good meat gravy.

No matter whether braised or roasted, broiled or pan-fried or simmered in water, all beef—like all meat—contains the same good proteins. The right kind of proteins for our bodies to rebuild on and for children to grow on. The right kind to help us ward off infection and hasten convalescence. The right kind to build blood plasma, hemoglobin and hormones.

Meat, in addition, offers B vitamins (thiamine, riboflavin, niacin) and the minerals iron, copper, phosphorus.

How about taking your good proteins, vitamins and minerals "braised"—in beef?

How to Braise Short Ribs of Beef with Vegetables. (Braising is long, slow cooking, after thorough browning, in a closely covered pan with little liquid.)

2 lbs. beef short ribs
Flour
2 tbsps. lard
2 tps. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper

1/2 onion
1/2 cup water
2 carrots
1/2 green pepper, if desired
2 stalks celery

Add vegetables cut small; continue cooking for 30-40 min. Remove meat to platter; thicken the vegetable gravy with 1 tbsp. flour stirred into 1/2 cup water. Serves 4 or 5.

This same basic braising method, with or without vegetables, applies to all braising cuts of meat whether they are cooked in one piece or cut into individual portions before cooking.

Mission Institute Plans Made by Church Women

Group Also Makes Arrangements for World Community Day Nov. 3

The Cumberland Council of Church Women formulated plans for the Mission Institute and the World Community day and elected Mrs. John S. Cook delegate to the national convention, at the meeting yesterday morning at Central YMCA.

Mrs. Cook appointed Mrs. James Kirkpatrick chairman of the institute, which will be held September 29 in Bethany United Brethren church, beginning at 9:45 o'clock. Mrs. R. L. Brill of Keyser, W. Va., will teach the book, "Into All the World," at the session beginning at 10 o'clock; and Mrs. S. R. Neel, this city, will teach, "West of the Date Line," beginning at 1:30 o'clock, after which a program will be presented. Luncheon will be served at noon by the ladies of the host church.

The World Community day program will be held November 3 under the chairmanship of Mrs. William A. Eisenberger, the place to be announced later. The program will include several speakers. Mrs. Eisenberger is being assisted by Mrs. John Vandegriff and Mrs. Cook.

The national convention of the Council of Church Women will be held in Columbus, O., November 14-16. A number of other members will also attend.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick conducted the devotionals on "Foreward Together in Christian Action." The secretary and treasurer reports were given by Mrs. Vandegriff and Mrs. Jack Means; Mrs. John Zimmerman made a request for literature; Mrs. F. W. Yates on citizenship; and Mrs. Eisenberger on the co-ordinating council meeting.

Fall Activities Planned by Junior Volunteer Corps

Special Luncheon Meeting Will Be Held on September 28

The Junior Volunteer Service Corps held its first meeting of the fall season yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul M. Fletcher, 801 Ridgedale avenue.

Mrs. G. Morgan Smith presided and appointed Mrs. John Cuper II chairman of the hostesses at the Community Services' Lounge and of the special luncheon meeting to be held September 28 at the Cumberland Country Club.

Mrs. Smith also announced that the Red Cross surgical dressing classes will be resumed the first week of October. Various members volunteered their services for the hospital dressings for the month of September, and as hostesses at the servicemen's lounge the week of September 17.

The next meeting will be held at 3 o'clock October 3 at the home of Mrs. Morgan C. Harris, Schley street, at which time members will vote on the amendments to the constitution, which were suggested at yesterday's meeting.

Postwar Planning Is Discussed By Homemakers

The Valley Road Homemakers Club elected a nominating committee and discussed postwar planning, following a report by Miss Maude A. Bean, county home demonstration agent, on the recreational survey and recommendations submitted by P. N. Binford, field recreation representative of the Council Recreation Division, Federal Security Agency, to the mayor and co-ordinating council at the meeting yesterday afternoon in the lecture hall of the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. John S. Cook was elected chairman of the nominating committee and will be assisted by Mrs. George Kraft and Mrs. William Maddocks.

Miss Bean explained the survey and recommendations were made in the hope of having the program in operation by the time the boys return from service to fill the gap between civilian life and the strenuous routine of war and the entertainment they have had.

After listing the facilities in Cumberland and the county with the suggested repairs and programs in industry, the city and housing, she gave the recommendations. They are: first, to form a policy for the proper conduct of recreation; second, to assist a paid superintendent study the plan and promote and interpret the recreation program, throughout all seasons of the year, for all age groups and both sexes; third, to plan, secure and properly maintain adequate facilities, both outdoor and indoor, for the proper conduct of the program; fourth, to hold regular meetings of the commission (superintendents and assistants) as proper for the adequate conduct of the project; and fifth, to discover and meet the new recreational needs in the community as they arise.

The program will be discussed at the October meeting and each chairman of the club will report on how her committee can assist in improving the family living conditions.

Mrs. Charles Callis gave a resume of the peace lessons and stressed how everyone should learn to live with other people and so with nations in order to obtain a lasting peace. Mrs. Cook, welfare chairman, announced that at the meeting last month 100 articles for infant layettes were made.

Tentative plans for the achievement day program to be held Nov. 1, in the Presbyterian lecture hall, were discussed and it was decided to invite members of different clubs to attend. Mrs. Theresa Coleman reported on the county council meeting last week; Mrs. Leslie Nave, parliamentary, explained the procedure of electing officers; Mrs. C. G. Ford discussed school clothing, demonstrating cutting a child's dress. She urged making over garments because of the scarcity of materials.

Mrs. Maddocks explained the new state tax as members of homemaker clubs and the penny for friendship club to introduce homemakers in foreign countries. A collection of pennies was taken for the fund. Mrs. H. A. Bean reported on the fair. Mrs. Ethel Zimmerman was at the piano for the group singing of "School Days" and "America the Beautiful." The roll call for the year was taken as in school.

Adults Will Take Course In Girl Scout Leadership

Miss Ann Young And Mrs. Eckles Are Entertained

Sorority Also Makes Plans for Rush Season To Be Held in October

Maryland Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority, entertained in honor of Miss Ann Young and Mrs. Virgil Eckles with surprise showers following the opening meeting of the season, Tuesday evening at the Port Cumberland hotel.

Miss Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Young, 312 Cumberland street, will become the bride of Ambrose R. McKenzie, son of Mrs. Catherine E. McKenzie, 307 Willis Creek avenue, and the late Walter McKenzie, September 16. She was honored with a bridal shower and a stork shower was given in honor of Mrs. Eckles.

Tentative plans for the rush season to be held in October were discussed at the business session. Miss Betty Roemmelmeyer presided and reviewed the duties of the officers and the purpose of the organization and membership.

A pink, blue and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations of the shower table, above which was suspended a pink and blue sprinkling can from which cascaded streamers of the three colors. The same color scheme was carried out in the decorations of the buffet supper table, which was centered with a large bride and groom. Nineteen members attended. Arrangements were under the chairmanship of Miss Sara McFarland.

A cultural program will be presented by Miss Mary Filler at the next meeting, September 19, the place to be announced later.

Will Install Officers

Star of the East Commandery No. 461 Knights of Malta will hold its installation of officers, at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening at the temple, 67 Prospect square, with John A. Habel as Sir Knight Commander.

A social hour will follow the meeting and refreshments will be served.

Is Designed Principally for Brownie and Intermediate Leaders

A group leadership course for adults in Girl Scouting will begin September 12, under the direction of Mrs. J. Henry Holzhu, acting chairman of the training committee on the Girl Scout Council; assisted by Mrs. Morris Barnes, commissioner.

The course will begin at 7:45 o'clock and is designed principally for Brownie and Intermediate leaders, but will contain material applicable for senior troops as well. Those wishing to enroll are requested to call scout headquarters. Anyone over the age of 18 interested in girls is invited to attend.

Meetings will be informal and will include discussions on democratic group management, methods of dealing with individual girls, and students will have a chance to participate in such activities as folk dancing, arts and crafts, nature and song and game leading. The course will be divided into seven sessions, five will be group meetings and at two the students will have the opportunity to observe troops in action.

Legion Mixed League Will Open Sept. 25

The deadline for registering for the American Legion Mixed Winter Bowling League will be September 18. Mrs. Harry Vogel announces. Registrations should be made with either Mrs. Vogel or Lester Underdonk.

Play will begin September 25 on the Savoy alleys, and plans are for ten teams with five members on each team.

Pfc. Leo Karns, Wounded at Biak, Died August 21

One tri-state serviceman has been killed, five others have been wounded in action, and three are reported captured by the Germans, according to yesterday's war casualty list.

Pfc. Leo Karns, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., died in New Guinea August 21 from wounds sustained June 17 during the assault on Biak Island. Pfc. Karns entered the service May 20, 1943. He was the son of Mrs. Earl Karns, Berkeley Springs.

Pfc. Paul C. Goetz, USMC, son of Paul Goetz, Mt. Savage, was wounded July 26 in the Pacific war zone. He is reported to have suffered shrapnel wounds in one foot. Pfc. Goetz has been on overseas duty with the marine corps since October, 1942. He was 17 years old when he volunteered for military service shortly after his graduation from Allegheny high school.

Marshall White, seaman first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. White, Cresap, was wounded during the battle of Saipan Island in the Pacific war zone. Seaman White, a former brakeman for the Western Maryland Railroad, entered the navy in 1943 and has been at sea for six months.

Sgt. Thomas Moorehead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Moorehead, Bloomington, was wounded in France August 13. He entered military service in April, 1941, and went overseas in October, 1942. Two brothers are also in the armed forces. They are Pvt. Donald Lee Moorehead, stationed at Camp Wheeler, Ga., and Pvt. Vaughn Eugene Moorehead, now at Fort Belvoir, Va.

Pfc. Isaac E. Miller, Romney, W. Va., was wounded in France June 9, three days after the invasion of Normandy began. He suffered wounds in his right arm and left leg. Pfc. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac E. Miller, Vanderlip near Romney.

Pvt. Bernard M. Weber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weber, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., is now hospitalized after being wounded in action in France August 5.

Sgt. Emil M. Ambrose, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ambrose, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., was captured by the Germans in France. Sgt. Ambrose, a tail gunner aboard a Flying Fortress, was previously reported missing after his thirty-eighth combat mission.

Lt. James P. Law, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Law, Manns Choice, Pa., is also a prisoner of the Germans, according to the casualty report. He had been reported missing in action following a combat mission over Germany December 30, 1943. Lt. Law entered the service in October, 1941, and went overseas last November.

Cpl. Glenn Messersmith, husband of Mrs. Mildred Messersmith, Bedford, Pa., has been captured by the Germans in France. He was previously reported missing in action since June 12. A brother, Pvt. Michael Messersmith, was wounded in action in France early in August.

Mrs. Elfreda Biser Morrison, Piedmont, W. Va., received a cablegram Tuesday from her husband, Staff Sgt. George W. Morrison, who has been reported missing in action since a combat mission over Romania July 3.

It is presumed that Sgt. Morrison, a waist gunner aboard a Liberator bomber, is one of the group of American airmen who were returned to American lines in Italy following the capitulation of Romania a few days ago. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Morrison, 109 West Hampshire street, Piedmont.

DISCUSSIONS FEATURE JUNIOR EXTENSION CLUB MEETING

"American Internationalism" was the subject of the Junior Extension Club meeting last evening at the court house, with Mary Morgan as leader. Under the heading of "American Relationship with Other Nations," various topics were discussed by all the members under the leadership of members.

Mary Morgan led the discussion on "Education"; Florence Thompson, "American Political and Economic Relations"; Ruth Morgan, "Race Problems"; the Rev. J. William Merchant, "Religion"; James Morgan, "Culture"; and LaVerne Rankin, "Military Program."

Reporting on the conservation meeting held last month on the Eastern Shore, Perry Shryock, Oldtown, told of methods of fire prevention; control of insects attacking crops; rotation of crops and prevention of floods and erosion.

Tona Miller, the Junior Extension delegate to the state leadership training conference held at the University of Maryland, August 30-31, gave her report stressing the methods taught for training boys and girls to lead in recreation and discussion in their communities. Thirty-five members attended.

Dr. T. B. Simons, University of Maryland, will be the guest speaker at the meeting October 4 at the court house.

Helpfley Marriage Is Annulled in Court

The marriage of Olive Virginia Helpfley and Jacob Albert Helpfley of Westernport, has been annulled in circuit court in a decree signed by Associate Judge William A. Huster. Mrs. Helpfley, the plaintiff, was given the right to resume use of her maiden name of Olive Virginia Broadwater. Helpfley is now in the army.

In the suit entered February 7, Mrs. Helpfley declared the marriage was entered into in a "spirit of adventure." She charged that Helpfley made false and persuasive promises to her and stated she was intoxicated when the marriage ceremony was performed.

On the day of the marriage, Mrs. Helpfley said her husband went to his home and sent her to her residence, telling her later that the marriage was just a joke. Mrs. Helpfley was represented by Morris Bacon.

Scrap Metal Is Made of Bridge At Barrelville

By CATHERINE O'ROURKE

MT. SAVAGE, Sept. 6.—The overhead railroad bridge across the highway at Barrelville has been torn down and the large steel girders and bridge sections have been cut up for scrap metal. The concrete abutments upon which the bridge was constructed, remain standing on each side of the highway. The bridge was erected for the use of the Cumberland Coal company in 1931, replacing the original bridge which was built on a curve and had to be demolished when the highway was widened.

The bridge was used to transport coal from the Cumberland company to the main line of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania railroad at Barrelville junction. The branch railroad leading to the mines was three miles long, extending from the junction to Wellersburg. The Rowe Mines and the Hamilton Brick and Tile company plant, both active industries at one time, were serviced by the branch line. The railroad has been out of operation for a number of years, and the coal from that section is now being trucked.

The bridge was in good condition, but was unnecessary since the rail service was terminated. The last section of the bridge was taken out Friday evening.

Given Farewell Party

Mrs. Mary Nolan was guest of honor at a farewell party Monday night at the home of her son, Joseph, Calla Hill. Mrs. Nolan is leaving

Beverly A. Hayes Missing in Raid Over Germany

Husband of Mrs. Lucille Hayes Has Been Unreported Since Aug. 24

By RUDOLPH NICKEL
FROSTBURG, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Lucille Hayes, 242 East Main street, received a telegram from the War Department today, stating that her husband, Staff Sgt. Beverly A. Hayes, is missing in action over Germany since August 24.

Sgt. Hayes, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly P. ## Auto Dealer Is Granted License

A license to buy and sell second-hand goods, exclusive of metal and rubber, was granted to the Square Deal Motors Tuesday by the mayor and council. Last week, Saul Waingold, firm owner, was ordered to secure a license by Police Magistrate Frank A. Perdew. He was fined $100 for not having a license and appealed.

The application of the Home Furniture Company, 128 Bedford street, for a similar license was referred to the Police department.

The collector reported collections of $72,713.67 last month. Of the total $30,033.92 was for water rent. Other collections in August follow: Lake Gordon, $125; water office fees $137.50; weights, $305.61; general license, $1,113; movie taxes $1,175.60; engineer's office, $111.20; and fines, $579.

Airport receipts last week were $68.06.

The council approved an order selling Lots 313-16 in the Walsh addition on Virginia avenue to Alexander M. and Carrie A. Jack for $1,200.

On the suggestion of Commissioner James Orr the Police department was instructed to investigate dumping by the Potomac Edison Company on the Dingle Hill.

Balances were reported as follows: General, $30,019.20; water operating, $117,940.02; general improvement bond, $29,743.46; paving bond, $104.72; flood, $631.49; and sewer bonds of 1931, $5,118.45.

Water consumption for the week ending Sunday was 78,820,000 gallons. The daily average was 11,260,000 gallons as compared to 9,731,000 for the same period last year. Lake Gordon is one foot, seven inches below the crest and Lake Koon eight feet, ten inches below.

Order of Orioles Obtains Class C Liquor License

A Class C beer, wine and liquor license was issued by Chief Judge Walter C. Capper in circuit court Tuesday to John W. Snyder, of 164 North Centre street, steward for the Fraternal Order of Orioles at the Six Mile house on Route 40, west of Cumberland.

The Class B beer and wine license held by Archibald Longbeam for the Six Mile house was transferred to Snyder and converted to a Class C license for the same location. Michael J. Malampy and George D. Kennedy, Jr. were listed as president and secretary, respectively, of the Order of Orioles on the license application.

Police String Wire For Radio Transmitter

Stringing of 7,500 feet of wire preparatory to setting up a new FM radio transmitter on Dan's rock was started Labor day by state police. Sgt. Harold C. Carl reported last night.

The wire, Carl said, is being strung from McMullen highway to the site of the transmitter on Dan's rock. The new equipment will replace present radio facilities of the state police. Carl said, as soon as the work can be completed.

Midland Magistrate Fines Motorist $50 On Speeding Charge

In what state police said was an attempt to break up speeding in Midland, Magistrate Thomas Stokem Tuesday fined Joseph W. Andrews, of Pekin, $50 and costs on a charge of driving at a speed greater than reasonable and proper. The costs amounted to seventy-five cents.

Sgt. Harold C. Carl said Andrews drove through Midland about 7:45 p. m. at a "terrific rate of speed," struck a parked automobile and continued on without stopping.

A short distance away, however, Andrews turned around and drove back to the scene, the sergeant said, to be met by a large group of Midland residents. One of them called state police and Trooper Blair J. Buckel was dispatched to the scene. He took Andrews into custody and entered the motor vehicle charge against him.

Mason Coddington Killed in France

By MRS. W. J. GLENN
FRIENDSVILLE, Sept. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coddington received a telegram from the War department Saturday, stating that their son, Pfc. Mason R. Coddington, was killed in action in France, August 4, where he had been serving with the Infantry. He was slightly wounded in May, but was back in action within a week.

Pfc. Coddington entered the service in May, 1941, and has been serving overseas approximately eight months.

Surviving are his parents, five sisters and four brothers, three of whom are serving in the armed forces. They are Pvt. Wade Coddington, England; Pvt. Leo Coddington, France; and Pvt. Raymond C. Coddington, who has recently returned to camp after visiting his parents.

YMCA Will Launch Fall Activities

The fall activities schedule of the Central YMCA will be inaugurated Monday, September 11 and will run through Wednesday, November 22, it was announced yesterday by Oscar I. Bergstrom, associate general secretary.

The schedule for this week includes: Junior A and B boys, swimming at 4 p. m. except on Saturday when the Junior B boys will have the use of the pool at 9 a. m. and Junior A boys at 10 a. m.

High school boys and men will swim at 5 p. m. except Saturday when the hours will be 11 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m.

The girls' schedule will be carried out as usual on Thursday with grammar school girls having the use of the pool at 7 p. m., high school girls and young ladies at 8 p. m., and senior ladies at 9 p. m.

Bergstrom said the "Y" winter schedule will be opened on November 27.

WAVE's Pocketbook Is Taken at Party

No trace had been found last evening of the pocketbook of Mary Sheetz, WAVE, of 124 Oak street, that was lost during a skating party at Crystal park Sunday.

Miss Sheetz, on her way home from Washington, D. C., attended the party with several friends and had the black leather billfold in her coat when it was checked. When she discovered the purse was missing.

Since the pocketbook contains her leave papers and family pictures, the WAVE hopes to have at least her official papers and pictures before Thursday, when her leave ends.

Other surviving children are Orelia, Madeline and Arline Lewis, all at home. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Lundy Roy, Dry Fork, W. Va.; Mrs. Opal Snyder, Aurora, W. Va.; three brothers, Arnel, White, Aurora; Arlie White, Detroit, Mich.; Pvt. Clifford White, United States Army, stationed at Drew field, Tampa, Fla.

Navy Abandons 3-Year Competition Rule; Will Use Former Grid Stars

By JOHN F. CHANDLER
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 6 (AP) — The United States Naval Academy announced today that it would follow the four-year competition rule of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, thereby making half a dozen former Navy stars eligible for another season on an already well-stocked football powerhouse.

At its January meeting in New York, the NCAA voted to waive for this year the three-year rule, but until today there was no indication that the Academy would go along with the broadened policy.

coach, declared. "The fact that we happened to gain a number of good players makes it look pretty big, but it only puts us on the same eligibility standard as Army and every civilian college that we are playing." The six players have been keeping in shape with the Navy B squad.

Hagberg said that Navy "has always followed the NCAA rules, and still is following them."

At West Point, Col. Lawrence (Bill) Jones, graduate manager of the United States Military Academy, said Army also was going along with Navy on the four-year plan, but it would not have any effect on the Cadet squad. Army, like Navy, has stepped-up the three year scholastic course, which allows Plebes to play on the Varsity.

Rep. Weiss Criticizes Navy's Handling Of Army-Navy Game

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP) — Rep. Weiss (D-Pa.) labeled as "plain hokum" today the Navy's reasons for prohibiting public attendance at the Army-Navy football game.

Saying the order which he attributed to "arm chair" strategists "just doesn't make sense," Weiss declared in a House speech efforts to change it are "more futile than battling one's head against a brick wall."

Weiss said the service teams, are permitted to travel thousands of miles to play other opposition in popular centers.

He added it is "perplexing for the public to understand why such a policy was required here in the United States when England xxx has continued her sports schedule for the benefit of public crowds of 125,000 at single events."

Hagberg To Have Plenty of Good Backs at Navy

Half a Dozen 1942-43 Stars Are Certain To Strengthen Team

By JOHN F. CHANDLER
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 6 (AP) — There may be some question this year about the Navy football team as a whole, but one thing is certain: if that herd of flashy backs ever breaks through, there is no telling how far they'll travel.

Comdr. Oscar Hagberg, starting his inaugural season as the Middies' coach after two years of skipping a submarine against the Japs, has more good backs than he can count on his fingers.

As for the line, suffice it to say that the speed and more speed. So some hefty linemen may watch from the bench while smaller, faster lads open the way for ball carriers.

Prospects Are Bright

The already good Navy prospects brightened considerably when the Academy announced today that it would abide by a National Collegiate Athletic Association ruling making Midshipmen eligible — for this season — for four years of Varsity competition.

This means that Hagberg can, and will fit half a dozen stars of 1942 and 1943 into his potent grid machine. These include four 1943 regulars, Hal Hagberg, passing star, tackle Don Whitmore, center Jack Martin; and halfback Ben Martin; and two members of the 1942 club, Dave Barksdale, quarterback and brilliant blocker; and Marshall Steves, a guard.

Rugged lines, ranking with the best, have been a tradition with Navy. This year, Lt. Comdr. E. E. (Rip) Miller, head line coach, who played in front of the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame, says "they won't be bad." For Miller, that is a hot tip.

Hagberg plans to gamble on a fast-breaking offense to fire into the rear runners like Bob Jenkins, Ralph Ellsworth, Bill Barron, Bruce Smith and others, Jenkins, Barron, Dick Duden and Joe Sullivan, all 1943 veterans, have been slated for one backfield unit, but Hagberg has a second express section which may derail the vets.

This quartet stacks up Tom Dwyer, Jim Pettit, the squad's speedster, and Al Walton, all holdovers from last year, plus Ellsworth, who burned up the Southwest with Texas university in '43.

"The situation is good," says Hagberg. "They will be fighting for places just like the linemen."

Other Good Players

So it's easy to see why such players as Fred Evers of Notre Dame, Dick Ambrosi of Pennsylvania U. and Clyde L. Scott of Washington, D. C., tagged as a boy to remember, could slide into a starting backfield without upsetting Hagberg's calculations.

Only one first-string lineman, Ben Chase, right end and captain, returned. Reserves and Plebes of last year fill out the forward wall. The best bet seems to be John Baker, second-string center last year, to move up; George Larkin, 1943 Plebe, for the second guard assignment; Gail Gilliam, a letterman, and Randolph Radick of the 1943 squad, at tackle; and John Hansen and Leon Bramlett, second-string holdovers at ends.

The schedule:
Sept. 30 — North Carolina Pre-Flight; Oct. 7 — Penn State; 14 — Duke at Baltimore; 21 — Georgia Tech at Atlanta; 28 — Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; Nov. 4 — Notre Dame at Baltimore; 11 — Cornell at Baltimore; 18 — Purdue at Baltimore; Dec. 2 — Army at Annapolis.

Cardinals Appear To Be in Good Shape for 1945

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP) — Whether they like it or not, it looks like National League fans might get a second helping of nothing next year as far as a tight pennant race is concerned, as the greatest gain in man-power through the winter probably will be made by the St. Louis Cardinals, who need it least.

The Cardinals of today are so superior to the other Major League teams that their heavy losses to the service generally are overlooked, and we ourselves have pointed toward such guys on the roster as the Coopers and Marty Marion and Max Lanier and "Whitey" Kurowski and muttered: "Well, why shouldn't they be good?"

May Lose Litwhiler

Quite ignored is the fact that the club has a pretty stout outfit in the service, including fellows we used to consider as key men. Fellows such as Terry Moore, and Enos Slaughter, and Howie Pollet, and Frank Crespi, and Jimmy Brown.

Anyway, the club's potential losses to the draft do not loom as severe, the war outlook being as it is. It might lose Danny Litwhiler, maybe one or two others, but not enough to put much of a dent in the lineup.

Assuming that future Card losses will be light, and considering that the present club is good enough to win the National League pennant by twenty games or so, the idea that St. Louis might dominate the league again next year seems logical.

When you consider demobilization, or even the gradual trickling of servicemen back to civilian life, the problem of Sam Breadon seems to be that of a gent with his only bucket already full of gold and the darned stuff keeps pouring in on him.

With fellows such as Moore and Slaughter and Pollet and Brown coming back, Breadon will be in something of a quandary as to what to do with them, although about fifteen other Major League owners would like to be in the same quandary.

Have Good Replacements

The point is that the Cardinals replacements have been so good they have been able to carry on in the same winning way as their predecessors. Other clubs have not been so fortunate. The Yankees might win in their league, but it will be by a gnat's eyelash and not a rabbit.

because the team is comparable in strength to that of last year.

Our guess is that Breadon can rent a corner store and do a whopping business peddling players he can't use but which other clubs can use very well indeed. But meanwhile, for the next year anyway, the National League fans can expect to see seven turtles chasing a rabbit.

Northwestern Will Have Young Players

By JERRY LISKA

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 6.—(P)—Dignified Lynn Waldorf, who just a week ago was sending the cream of the collegiate grid crop against the Chicago Bears, now is something of a "freshman" coach as he primes a young and green Northwestern squad for the 1944 football campaign.

Waldorf, whose College All-Stars bowed to the Bears, 24-21, in a ding-dong battle here Aug. 30, is strangely cheerful for a mentor whose squad lacks a single 1943 regular and includes only eight experienced holdovers.

"We're really a brand new outfit, pretty young and pretty inexperienced," asserted Waldorf who launched his fall practice last Saturday, "but it should be an interesting season."

Like Michigan and Purdue, last year's co-champions in the Western Conference, Northwestern was well-loaded with experienced navy trainees in 1943. This fall, the Wildcats still are packed with navy men, but virtually all of them are fresh out of high school. The rest of the squad is composed of 17-year-old civilians.

Teddy Wilks Looks Like Best Rookie Of 1944 Season

Cardinal Freshman May Set New National League Pitching Mark

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(P)—Teddy Wilks, St. Louis Cardinals freshman who took his time about hitting the big show, ranks as a leading candidate for "rookie of the year" honors with designs on a new National League pitching mark.

When Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons won sixteen and lost only two for Brooklyn in 1940 to establish a National League record for a winning percentage of .889, Wilks was earning his coffee and cake for Houston in the Texas League.

Johnny Allen's Major League record of 15-1 for 1938, set at Cleveland in 1937, is beyond his reach now but the husky right-hander can equal Fitzsimmons' performance by a victory next time out.

The Fulton, N. Y., rookie is considered a sure bet for a World Series starting assignment, although the Red Birds have not yet clinched the flag.

Wilks' main strength is a blazing fast ball that he can control with more than ordinary success, walking only thirty-five in 164 innings, striking out fifty-eight and yielding 132 hits.

Billy Southworth had Wilks in the bull pen and started him only three times up to July 2, picking up three wins and a 3-1 loss to Bill Voiselle of New York, another standout first year man. After the

One Match Played In Tennis Tourney

Rain yesterday evening postponed a number of the tennis matches in the County tournament. However, Harold Brown and Randy Jewell on the Garlitz courts disposed of "Bill" Bruce and William Claus in doubles, 6-0, 6-2. Brown and Jewell now play Robert Bane and Loraine Eisenberg in the next round.

Two good matches are scheduled for this evening at 6:30 on the Dingle courts. Dr. E. A. Smith, winner of a recent Frostburg tournament will meet Jack Evans; and another Frostburg player, Overlin Chaney will play Maurice Bernstein.

defeat by the Giants, the 178-pound topper reeled off eleven straight wins before he dropped a 4-3 verdict to Pittsburgh last Saturday in a 1½-inning relief chore. Back again Monday at Cincinnati he returned to the right side of the ledger with a five-hit 3-0 shutout, his third of the season.

Taking a Short Cut along the Sports Trail

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(P)—Caught short.

The way the American League race is tightening up we probably will be saying for the next month: "Well, I see the Browns (or Yankees or Tigers or Red Sox) are leading again, weren't they?" It was a tough enough blow when the Red Sox lost Tex Hughson. Now that they've lost Bobby Doerr their chances would seem hopeless. The Doerr leading to the pennant has been shut, you might say. Probably not, though.

No matter what it does from now on, the Second Air Force is the champion service football team of Sept. 2. The way the Superbombers ran up 22 points in the first quarter against the Peru V-12 team indicates what they have. Everything about them seems super, including Bob Hendren, an end from Clarina, Ia., who is 6 feet 8 inches tall.

The St. Louis Cardinals lost no time in showing they weren't interested in one record, anyway. That is the record for the best winning percentage during September. The Chicago Cubs, with 23 victories against three defeats for an .885 mark, are the holders. The Cards obliterated themselves from that competition by dropping their first four games of the month to the Pirates. Well, it relieves the strain, anyway. Now they can be themselves again.

It is announced no entertainment will be on the program when the Minor Leagues meet in Buffalo December 6. There wasn't supposed to be any at the last meeting, but it turned out to be a most entertaining meeting from the opening gong until Commissioner Bramham entertained a motion to adjourn. Incidentally, the ten active Minor Leagues and the fifteen suspended for the duration all have filed their membership and protection fees for next year. Presumably, all of them will have a vote again, with a proxy there, here a proxy there a proxy everywhere.

Somebody-Kick-Me-Dept.: Manager Donnie Bush of the Indianapolis Indians released infielder Fred Vaughn outright last year. Mike Kelley signed Vaughn for the Minneapolis Millers. He finished the season with the Club, hit around .325 for it this year, and recently was sold to Washington for $15,000. That's something like picking money off a Bush, isn't it? We're sorry we missed the sight of Gus Mancuso and Ernie Lombardi running the bases simultaneously the other day. Gus was on first as a pinch runner with Lombardi at bat. Lombardi would have had to hit it out of the park to prevent a double play. Mancuso is one step slower than a walk and Lombardi is practically motionless.

Former Phillie Rookie Is Seriously Wounded

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa., Sept. 6.—(P)—Pvt. Robert (Perk) Smith, former rookie pitcher with the Philadelphia Phillies, was seriously wounded in France Aug. 18, the War Department notified his wife, Irene, today.

An outstanding high-school athlete, Smith was inducted into the army last January and was sent overseas in July.

Williams Whips Angott

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—(P)—Ike Williams, Trenton, N. J., lightweight, won a ten-round split decision tonight over Sammy Angott, of Washington, Pa., former NBA lightweight king, in a punch-packed bout before 11,568 fans in Shibe Park. The crowd paid $34,251.62. Williams weighed 136, Angott 140½.

Andersson Wins

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 6.—(P)—Running in a downpour of rain Arne Andersson won the 1,500-meter event in 3:59.8 tonight in a track meet at Uppsala. The time compares to the 3:43 world record set two months ago by Andersson's countryman, Gunder Haegg.

Iron Firemen Wallop Coney

The Iron Firemen won the right to meet the Frostburg American Legion team for the championship of the Victory Baseball League, by handing the Lonaconing American Legion its second straight defeat, in the playoff series yesterday by the one sided score of 9 to 3 in a game played on the North End diamond.

The Iron Firemen put the game on ice in the last half of the first inning by scoring eight runs and the outcome from then on was never in doubt. Lonaconing scored one in the fourth, one in the fifth and its final run in the seventh, while the Firemen added its final run in the fifth inning.

No dates have been set for the title series.

Objection Is Made To Using Stadium As Sports Center

BALTIMORE, Sept. 6.—(P)—Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin of Baltimore received a protest today against the adoption of any plan for location of a permanent sports center on the site of the present municipal stadium.

J. S. Haven, who lives near the stadium, wrote McKeldin that such use of the site would be a commercialization of park property.

Municipal officials had considered plans for an expanded sports plant which would provide a permanent home for the Baltimore Orioles and for professional football. The Orioles switched their games to the stadium when their own park was destroyed by fire.

A representative committee to consider the desirability of a large sports center to include playing fields and a building for indoor games, conventions and other events soon will be named by the mayor.

Haven, in his letter, said that when the stadium was offered to the Orioles it was understood that the arrangements would be only temporary. He continued, "now it seems it is not only the intention to continue its use for that purpose but it is to be built into a much larger sports center and to be a much greater objection. x x x"

Nelson Is Favored To Win Tournament

DALLAS, Sept. 6.—(P)—Wee Ben Hogan checked the Lakewood Country Club course from start to finish, looked at his practice score cards which included two par-shattering rounds and decided it would take 269 to win the 72-hole Texas Victory open tournament and the $2,000 that goes with it.

The railbirds, averred Little Ben, who is on leave from the army to compete in the tournament opening tomorrow, was just the guy to shoot the 269.

Tall Byron Nelson of Toledo, formerly another star Texas golfer, was the favorite, however, as the was designed to raise $25,000 to professionals descended upon Dallas seeking the harvest of war bonds (tal for wounded war veterans at being given in a tournament that) McKinney, Texas.

Quality Street is a One Way Street

There are no two ways about Quality...no detours, no short cuts. Dobbs knows only one way to make a hat...the hard way, the Quality Way. For any other way, any easier way, could not produce a Dobbs. The Dobbs you buy today is still all Dobbs...the same fine quality, the same careful workmanship, the same exclusive styling. Under present conditions you may find fewer styles, a smaller variety of colors. BUT, under no conditions will you ever find less hat. For come what may, Dobbs hats will always be made to Dobbs quality standards—and never to an inflated demand. The Dobbs credo is very simple: "Not how many, but how well."

Thomas Johnson, Retired Engineer, Dies in Keyser

By LUKE McDOWELL
KEYSER, W. Va., Sept. 6.—Thomas B. Johnson, 70, died at about one o'clock this afternoon at his home, Saint Cloud and B streets. He was a native of Westport, but had spent most of his life in Keyser. His wife died several years ago.

He was a locomotive engineer working for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company until his retirement several years ago. He was a member of First Methodist church, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Masonic fraternity.

He is survived by three sons: Pfc. Kenneth Johnson, Camp Swift, Texas, and Floyd and Russell Johnson, Keyser. There are eight grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements have not been made, pending word from Pfc. Kenneth Johnson.

Mrs. Miller Dies
Mrs. Clara Miller Herbert, 62, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John T. Dorsey, 28 D street, at 11:30 Monday forenoon. Her husband James B. Herbert died some years ago. She was the daughter of the late M. E. Miller and Mrs. Miller who resides in Ridgeley.

Besides her mother and her daughter, Mrs. Dorsey, she is survived by two sons, Pfc. Reginald Herbert, South Pacific, and George Herbert, Westport. She has six sisters and four brothers surviving.

They are: Mrs. Michael Hoban, Beaver, Pa.; Mrs. Anna M. Laughlin, Westport; Mrs. Harry Exline, Hancock; Mrs. Carl Cessna, Mt. Savage; Mrs. Leo Daugherty, Ridgeley; Mrs. A. D. Kibbaugh, New Brighton, Pa.; Henry Miller, Westport; John Miller, New Cumberland, Pa.; Edward Miller, Williamsport, Del.; and Norbert J. Miller, Akron, Ohio. There are seven grandchildren.

Funeral mass will be held in St. Peter's church, Westport, Thursday morning at 9:30. Interment will be in St. Patrick's cemetery, Mount Savage.

"Jamboree" Planned
The Keyser Rotary club has planned a "Jamboree" at the Knights of Pythias grounds at Burlington, Thursday at four p. m. The Rotarians will be joined by the local Lions club for the occasion.

Wives and families of Rotarians and Lions are expected to attend, especially those whose husbands and fathers are in the service.

Sports have been arranged. Dinner will be served by the Burlington Farm women's club. There will be a cake-walk and square dance after supper. Music will be by the Burlington Hill Billy swing band.

Vigilant Company Elects Officers
The Vigilant Reel and Hose company elected officers for the ensuing year. William Miers is the retiring president. The newly elected officers are H. S. Hartman, president; John Mill, vice-president; C. E. Leary, recording secretary; E. K. Smith, financial secretary; W. W. Long, treasurer; W. J. Cross, captain; George Barick, first assistant captain; J. B. Hickie, second assistant captain; J. E. Chesire, chief engineer; Clyde W. LaRue, first assistant engineer; Horace Clark, second assistant engineer; George Mills, third assistant engineer; W. F. Stickley, trustee; Robert McIlwee, drill master; William Miller, inspector; C. Swisher, chaplain; E. Wade Thomas, chief, and William McCucas, assistant chief.

The elected chief and assistant chief were recommended to the city council for approval.

Miss Allamong Is Ill
Miss Evangeline Allamong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Allamong, Grafton, underwent an appendix operation in Potomac Valley hospital today. Her mother who was with her, returned to Grafton late this evening.

Others admitted to the hospital are Mrs. Herbert Dawson, Jr., Vance Stickley, Mrs. Clarence Jewell, Miss Alicia Genthner and Miss Jane Cannon, Keyser; Philip McDonald, Westport, and Robert Roy Tuel, Elk Garden; Mrs. James Hedrick, Moorefield; Mrs. T. H. Deibaugh, Mrs. William Ryan, and Mrs. Fannie Smith and David Martin, Keyser; Irving Marsh and Register Rigglesworth, Westport; Ellen Ruth Elmer and Carla Jean Hartman, Junction, and James Smith, New Creek.

Personals
Sgt. Herbert Triplett is home from Rogers field on a fifteen-day furlough. Sgt. Triplett returned to the states in April after more than two years service in the Pacific area.

Sgt. James T. Norwood is spending a brief furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Norwood. He will go from here to Fresno, California, for further assignment.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Holy, New York City and son, Sgt. Philip Holy, Camp Stewart, Georgia, and Miss Blanche Romaine, Charleston, W. Va., are visiting Mrs. W. S. Caldwell.

Mrs. L. H. Mott, president of Moorefield district W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church will conduct a seminar on missionary education in First church, Keyser, Thursday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

The Past Noble Grands of Mount Olive Rebekah lodge have planned a "Quiltin' Party" to be held in the L.O.O.F. temple at seven p. m. Friday. Members will bring needle, thimble and scissors as Red Cross quilts will be knitted.

Miss Florence Howard, county club agent, is spending the week with her parents in Buckeye, W. Va.

Miss Ruth Elaine Host is spending two weeks with friends in Brunswick, Md. She will return Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Miller, Fairmont, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. W. R. Taylor.

Wayne Boor and family, Petersburg, spent Labor Day with his mother, Mrs. A. J. Boor.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Broadwater, Lonaconing, in Potomac Valley hospital.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Seibel in Potomac Valley hospital.

Game Commission Boy Scout Council Did Not Concur In Kaylor Edict

Makes Nice Gains

Increases in Scouts, Troops and Scouters Made in Year under Jackson

F. P. Smith Says His Group Was Not Consulted on Closing of Forest

Taking exception to the announcement by State Forester Joseph F. Kaylor, that the Maryland Inland Game and Inland Fish Commission concurred in the action taken to close the Green Ridge State Forest to all types of hunting this fall and winter, Pulcher P. Smith, of Ellerslie, yesterday declared that the commission, of which he is a member, was not consulted on the matter.

"Mr. Kaylor is definitely in error in stating that the commission concurred in the action," Smith stated. "In fact the first I knew of the action taken by Kaylor was when the story appeared in last Saturday's Cumberland News."

Smith suggests that the situation relative to the protection of German prisoners of war, who occupy a camp in the Green Ridge area, be handled in the same manner as the CCC camp when it was situated there. The areas immediately around the camp were restricted and posted against hunting and when the crews worked in the woods all land in that area was also posted as a means of protecting the youths from the fire of hunters' guns.

"The same regulations were in force during the hunting seasons in 1943, Washington and Frederick counties where CCC camps also were located," Smith said. "No accidents were reported under this procedure and I'm sure the same plan can be followed during the 1944 upland game season."

Smith stated he is reasonably certain that the other members of the commission feel the same way about the matter.

Conference Is Asked

"Both the commission and the forestry department, I am sure, will do all they can to take co-operative steps to protect the prisoners at Green Ridge and a conference is being asked between the commission and Kaylor for the purpose of making a satisfactory adjustment because it is not necessary to close 30,000 acres of state forest land to hunting to protect several hundred prisoners," Smith concluded.

Smith issued the statement following a telephone conversation with Attorney General William C. Walsh, who requested that the commission's position in the matter be publicized inasmuch as Kaylor has announced that the commission had concurred in the action.

George E. Jordan Rites Are Planned

Funeral services for George E. Jordan, 68, of 409 Furnace street, register of wills for Allegany county, who died Tuesday in Allegany hospital as a result of injuries suffered last Thursday evening, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home.

The Rev. H. Hall Sharp, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran church, will officiate. Interment will be in St. Luke's cemetery.

"The funeral will be in charge of Fort Cumberland Lodge No. 211, A. P. and A. M., and Antioch Commandery No. 6, Knights Templar, will provide the Knights Templar escort at the rites."

OSCAR C. HUBER

FROSTBURG, Sept. 6.—Oscar C. Huber, died at 6 o'clock this evening at his home, Mt. Pleasant street, where he had been seriously ill since June.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Huber, and is survived by his widow, the former Miss Margaret Hines; two sons, William H. Huber, of Long, and Joseph F. Huber, of Baltimore; four sisters, Mrs. Emma Foreman, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Lillian McFarland, Detroit; Mrs. Gertrude Watt, Baltimore; and two brothers, George J. Huber, Maybee, Mich., and Joseph Huber, Eckhart.

Mr. Huber was a retired mine foreman, member of Frostburg Council No. 1442, Knights of Columbus; and of St. Michael's Catholic church, Frostburg.

Funeral services will be held with a requiem mass at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning in St. Michael's church, with interment in the parish cemetery.

MRS. SARAH DOUGHTY RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Massey Doughty, mother of Mrs. J. Gordon Mitchell, Braddock road, who died early Tuesday morning at her home in Baltimore, will be conducted this morning at 10 o'clock in St. Anne's Catholic church, Baltimore.

FIVE YOUTHS LEAVE FOR BALTIMORE TO TAKE NAVY TESTS

Five youths, all 17, who enlisted in the navy at the local naval recruiting station, left yesterday for Baltimore, where they will take their final physical examinations before beginning active duty, according to Chief Petty Officer Walter B. Warner, local navy recruiter.

John Francis Kerns, 32 Race street, was petty officer in charge of the group. The other boys were: Richard Allen Weimer, Valley road; Arthur William McKay, 234 Cecilia street; Donald Paul Heare, Keyser, W. Va., and Charles Lewis Reiber, Meyersdale, Pa.

Francis D. Smith, 30, 216 Decatur street, a machinist's mate first class, who was sworn into the ship repair unit of the navy last February 29, will leave for Baltimore September 19 to repeat the commissioning test. He was recruited last Saturday. Smith was formerly employed at the Celanese plant as a millwright.

Chief Warner announced yesterday that young men 17 years of age are needed by the navy as radio technicians and as hospital apprentices. Preliminary tests for radio technician training will be given at the local recruiting station, and successful applicants will be enlisted with a rating of seaman first class (RT) and will be sent ultimately to radio technician training school, Chief Warner said.

Youths with experience in relation to standard Red Cross first aid course may be enlisted as hospital apprentice first class, Chief Warner said, and those without such experience may enlist as hospital apprentice second class. Consent of parents or guardian is required for the enlistment of 17-year-old boys.

DFC IS AWARDED TO LOCAL PILOT

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England.—Outstanding achievement in aerial combat over Nazi Europe has won the Distinguished Flying Cross—high award of the army air force—for Second Lt. Wilmar Zembower, 25-year old B-17 Flying Fortress co-pilot, of Cumberland.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Zembower, 627 Lincoln avenue, Cumberland, and formerly a salesman for Associated Transportation, Inc., Cumberland, Lt. Zembower has seen action with the Eighth air force over vital Nazi targets stretching from Berlin to the Normandy coast. He has flown close to 30,000 miles to deliver bombs to enemy objectives. Lt. Zembower previously received the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf clusters for achievement in battle.

The Cumberland flyer's veteran Fortress group holds a Presidential citation for its highly successful bombing of key Nazi ball-bearing factories at Schweinfurt, Germany, last October, and is a unit of the Third bombardment division, cited for its now historic England-to-Africa shuttle bombing of Messerschmitt plants at Regensburg, Germany, in August 1943.

Soldier Is Held

Pvt. George A. Hairston, who told MPs he had been AWOL from Ft. Devens, Mass., since August 7, was taken to Baltimore MP headquarters yesterday. He was arrested Monday by Pvt. James I. Winlow.

WACs Overseas Make Suggestions for Christmas Gifts

Members of WAC detachments now serving overseas in eleven foreign countries have contributed to a list of suggestions for Christmas gifts to WACs overseas, according to Cpl. Ruth Baker, in charge of the local WAC recruiting station.

Included on the list are leather folding picture frames, with new snapshots of the family and friends; identification bracelets and silver dogtag chains; personalized stationery with plain envelopes and air mail stamps; sun glasses, pajamas and bathing suits; pocket editions of current best sellers; a favorite brand of cosmetics packed in metal or paper cartons; rayon or sheer silk hose for off-duty wear, and fine lisle hose for WACs stationed in the tropics; skirt hangers and clothespins, with her initials painted in small letters on them; and for WACs in England, popcorn, shelled and packed in tin containers for protection against the damp English climate.

What WACs do not need are irons, flashlights, alarm clocks, sewing kits, shoe shine kits, manicure sets, all of which may be purchased at post exchanges, and scrap books, which are subject to censorship, Cpl. Baker said.

Minister Denies War Prisoners Got Equipment

Tells Lions Solicited Furnishings Are Being Used by Guards

Denying reports that furniture and funds were being solicited by him for benefit of German prisoners of war interned at Green Ridge, the Rev. William von Spreckelsen, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church and acting civilian chaplain for the prisoners of Protestant faith, denounced spreading of such rumors in an address made yesterday at the Lions club meeting in Central YMCA.

The Rev. Mr. von Spreckelsen spoke in place of Lt. George J. Richards, Jr., of the military police unit guarding the prisoners, who was unable to speak because of war department regulations, and the minister was careful to point out that he was speaking unofficially.

Furnish Recreation Room

The speaker recalled that furniture and other equipment as well as money was solicited recently in order to furnish a recreation room for the American soldiers guarding the prisoners, and he declared that every piece of furniture went to the American guards as well as every dollar of the $110 contributed. Rumors are being circulated, he said, that the prisoners of war are being treated better than the American military police, but, he added with emphasis, not one piece of furniture has been taken inside the stockade where the prisoners are confined. He added that the prisoners are treated according to the Geneva convention.

Says Investigation Welcomed

"I have been authorized by Capt. Betyeman (Charles F. Betyeman, Jr., commanding officer at the camp), the minister said, "to say that he would welcome investigation of the situation at any time. Furniture and a piano were obtained and a radio was repaired, according to the Rev. Mr. von Spreckelsen, and he added that all of it stands in the recreation room for the guards outside the stockade. None of it is available, he declared, even for religious services conducted for the prisoners.

The Rev. Mr. von Spreckelsen asserted that no time did he solicit funds or furniture for the prisoners of war and he declared that "anyone who says I diverted funds to the prisoners did not quote me and is careless of the truth."

Considers Criticism Un-American

Rumors, the speaker said, usually begin with people who are un-American, and he said, "I consider criticize un-American for people to criticize those of us who are sacrificing ourselves to make life more comfortable for the American soldiers who are away from home."

Rifle and Pistol Club Will Hold Meeting Tonight

The first meeting of the Cumberland Rifle and Pistol club, which has recently received its charter from the National Rifle association, will be in the Grill room of the Moose home at 7:30 tonight.

The organizers of the club are members of Company No. 841 of the Maryland Reserved Militia. Others will be invited to join the club later.

Rifles and ammunition will be purchased through affiliation with the National Rifle association. The club plans to have shooting matches with members of the Western Maryland Rifle league.

Officers of the club are: Thomas Lohr Richards, president; J. C. Gilmore, vice president; Roy V. Rinker, executive officer; Joseph E. Baden, secretary, and Jesse A. Hoover, treasurer. The officers and Frederick Haas and A. P. Kolling constitute the executive committee.

LeCompte Asks Kaylor To Retract Statement on Closing Green Ridge

State Warden Says Forester Had No Authority To Close Season

E. Lee LeCompte, state game warden, has requested Joseph F. Kaylor, state forester, to retract his statement relative to the closing of the hunting season in the Green Ridge State Forest, adding that the latter's department has no authority whatsoever to order any closed season in any part of the state on property owned by the State Department of Forests and Parks.

Copies of the letter, dated September 5, have been forwarded to Governor O'Connor, Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden; Garner W. Denmead, chairman, and Pulcher P. Smith, of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission.

LeCompte refers to Kaylor's statement to the effect that "the action was taken with the concurrence of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission" and adds: "You have certainly misquoted the commission since there never has been any petition, or in fact request to close the season for hunting wild turkeys in 1944. However, the commissioners denied it inadvisable to close the season."

Plan Was Satisfactory

"If you will confer with Harry Buckingham, I am sure he will advise you that during the period the CCC camps were located in Maryland, the administrator of that organization from the Washington office wrote us requesting co-operation in some manner to prevent accidents to the boys during the hunting season," the LeCompte communication stated.

"We recommend that signs be made and distributed around the area each morning where the boys were going to work. This was approved by the administration in Washington as well as by Harry Buckingham, at that time a district forester in Maryland, and the plan was most satisfactory to all concerned. Every morning whatever the boys were working, these signs were distributed with wording, I think, as follows: 'Men Working Here. Do not hunt within 500 yards.' This same plan could be worked out for the protection of the prisoners working on state forests."

"Your article certainly has created a turmoil not only in Allegany county, where it is most effective, but throughout the state. I wish to call your attention to the fact that hundreds of state-wide licenses are sold in this state annually and a great many of the holders of state-wide licenses purchase same for hunting outside of their own section, and also a great many of them spend their vacation hunting in Garrett and Allegany counties."

Detrimental to Hunters

"Closing such a large area, which I understand would include all of Town Hill mountain, Green Ridge and Polish mountain, which is the heart of the hunting territory for deer, wild turkeys and ruffed grouse, would be a great detriment to the non-resident hunters desiring to hunt in that territory."

"There are only two methods of making laws and regulations for the taking of wildlife, namely, the General Assembly of Maryland, and the Game and Inland Fish Commission is empowered to make regulations independent of those made by the General Assembly, and there is no other department empowered to either open a season or close a season for the hunting of wildlife."

In conclusion LeCompte requests a conference with Kaylor personally relative to the subject.

WAC Broadcast Will Be Heard Tonight

The first in a series of thirteen transcribed broadcasts designed to stimulate WAC recruiting in this area will be presented over WTBO tonight from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, Cpl. Ruth Baker, local WAC recruiter, announced yesterday.

Maj. Jack B. Dunn, officer in charge of WAC recruiting in the Third Service Command, will act as master of ceremonies on tonight's program, which will feature the songs of Sgt. Marion Stanfield, a vocalist with several name bands before her enlistment in the WAC in September, 1942.

A special script written by Tech. Sgt. H. Donald Spatz, author of several mystery novels, and Tech. Sgt. Robert G. Swan, a radio script writer for NBC in civilian life, will be heard on tonight's broadcast. Pfc. Billy Cover, former feature vocalist with Blue Barons orchestra, will also be heard.

The series of programs, which will be presented over WTBO every Thursday night for the next thirteen weeks, was prepared and produced by WAC recruiting officers at Third Service Command headquarters in Baltimore, and have already been produced in other sections of the state.

Sgt. Vernon Willard Recovers from Wound

In a letter to his wife, Mrs. Hilda Willard, of 421 Louisiana avenue, First Sgt. Vernon Willard, 25, stated, on August 21, that he had recovered from his injury and would be able to return to his outfit within a few days.

The local soldier was evacuated to an English hospital after he suffered a shrapnel wound in the right arm in Normandy July 10.

Moorefield Man Dies from Injuries

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., Sept. 6.—(AP)—William Franklin Henry, 29, of Moorefield, W. Va., who was found, seriously injured, at the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near the Bainbridge naval training station, died today of a fractured skull, Havre de Grace hospital officials reported.

The man was found early today about 400 yards from the navy boat dock near the naval station. Bainbridge officials said the man, who was taken to the hospital in a Bainbridge ambulance, was found by Conductor E. W. Kurtz.

River Pollution Causes Furloughs At Celanese Plant

Fred T. Small, Celanese plant manager, announced yesterday that several hundred employees in the textile department have been furloughed because the supply of non-polluted water is not sufficient for the production of yarn.

The furlough should be of only short duration unless the city, now allowing the plant an amount of water in excess of that allowed in recent months, should withdraw its help, Small said. He added that if the city's aid should be withdrawn, it could cause a continuance of the furlough inasmuch as river water in its present state of pollution cannot be used.

Unless considerable rainfall should prevail in September, there is little likelihood of any improvement in the condition of the river, and the geological survey of the United States Department of Interior revealed that under adverse conditions, the flow of streams in the upper Potomac basin is expected to be between ten and twenty per cent of normal this month.

The report indicated that the average runoff of streams in the upper Potomac basin this month is expected to be about forty per cent below normal. The stream flow at the start of this month was sixty-seven cubic feet per second as compared to a normal of 210.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday that the city will do all it can to reduce and, if possible, eliminate the odor coming from local streams. He added that all the city can do is keep the stream banks coated with lime and he said this step will be taken.

Six Months Term Is Given Baltimore Girl; Other Cases Heard

A Baltimore girl arrested Tuesday morning on a charge of vagrancy was sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction yesterday by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr. The girl, Mildred Wolf, 20, was arrested on North Mechanic street by Sgt. Raymond Johnson of the city police. She was taken to the county jail yesterday afternoon pending commitment to the House of Correction.

A suspended sentence of six months in the House of Correction was given to Clarence Moler, 15, also of Baltimore, who was arrested in the girl's company on a charge of vagrancy. Magistrate Bruce suspended the sentence on condition that the boy return to Baltimore.

Louis Donius, this city, also arrested on a vagrancy charge, was committed to the House of Correction for six months after a hearing yesterday before Magistrate Frank A. Perdew in trial magistrates court.

After an investigation of the case, Magistrate Perdew found that Donius, formerly employed by the B and O railroad, had quit his job several months ago and had not returned. A membership card Donius held in the B and O YMCA entitled him to a room for thirty cents a day but he had not used it since June, Magistrate Perdew said.

Mrs. Christina Devault, Nikep, charged with assaulting Mrs. Margaret Beeman September 1 at their home, pleaded not guilty at a hearing yesterday before Magistrate Bruce. The case was held open for further investigation, and Mrs. Devault was warned to keep the peace.

Clement R. Kapakpa, Jr., Fairchance, Pa., forfeited an $114.45 bond in trial magistrates court Tuesday when he failed to appear before Magistrate Bruce on a charge of reckless driving. Kapakpa was arrested Sunday on Route 40 in Narrows Park by Trooper Glen D. Folk.

State VFW Cast Votes To Admit Women Members

Resolution Was Defeated at Chicago, Local Delegates Report

Maryland's delegation to the regional national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, in Chicago, cast its thirty-nine votes in favor of the resolution extending membership to eligible women veterans, which was defeated by a vote of 2348 to 1046, it was revealed in a report made Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of Henry Hart Post No. 1411.

While a number of the state department's delegates opposed the resolution, the majority expressed their opinion in the affirmative and the thirty-nine votes, including thirteen from the local post, were cast accordingly. It was revealed that two of the eight delegates representing Henry Hart Post were in favor of limiting VFW membership to males.

The VFW posts never have admitted women to membership and the by-laws will remain as they have been as a result of the Chicago vote.

George Banzhof was chairman and John Pike secretary of the Henry Hart Post delegation attending the encampment.

Thomas K. Whalley, adjutant of the local post, said that out of a total of 691 members enrolled July 29, approximately 450 are in the armed services. Nine members of the post have been reported "killed in action."

The local post pays in full the memberships of all those serving in the armed forces overseas. Should members remain overseas after the war with the army of occupation the post will continue to pay their membership fees which amount to $4 per man a year.

Included with the Christmas packages to be sent members in foreign service will be VFW membership bars which may be worn on the cap or uniform.

Local News in Brief

Suit for absolute divorce from William R. Washington was filed in circuit court yesterday by Mrs. Laura G. Washington. The couple were married August 20, 1919, according to the bill of complaint, and lived together until 1921 when Washington deserted her husband and returned to live with her in 1930 or 1931 but that he again abandoned her in 1931. Mrs. Washington is represented by E. M. Horcher.

According to Thomas F. Conlon, chairman of the Mountain District Veterans' association, veterans will meet Sunday at 3 p. m. in the city hall to discuss and consider reports of the progress and plans for the demobilization of servicemen. The work of the association has received much publicity in the August issue of the Legionnaire.

Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, said that the city has completed drainage work on the Bedford road. The state roads commission has started preparing the road for black top paving from the end of the brick paving to the city line. Hot surfacing will be started soon it is expected.

Sgt. C. W. Chandler, Non-Commissioned Officer in Charge of the Local MP Detail, Central YMCA, Will Leave This Morning for a Three-Day Leave at the Richmond, Va., Hospital. He Was Admitted August 29, Suffering from a Fractured Right Hip as a Result of a Fall, Near his Home.

H. U. F. Flurschütz, 90, local furniture dealer, of 435 North Central street, is "going along well" in Allegheny hospital. He was admitted August 29, suffering from a fractured right hip as a result of a fall, near his home.

Charles R. Barbe, Romney, W. Va., took the army forces-mine exam yesterday in the office of Tech. Sgt. Clarence Biehn, local army recruiter.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Cumberland Police Boys Club will be held Monday, September 11 at 8 p. m., in the Central YMCA.

The September meeting of the WAC mothers club will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. G. W. Eichner, 11 Edgewood drive, according to Cpl. Ruth Baker, local WAC recruiter.

The September meeting of the Cumberland Club of Human Relations, originally scheduled for last night, has been postponed indefinitely, it was announced yesterday.

Hinkle Road Home Burns

A frame home occupied by Virgil Hampton and family, Hinkle road, was completely destroyed by fire at noon Tuesday. The Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Company was called too late to save the dwelling located one mile from a telephone. Firemen, who prevented the flames from spreading to nearby woods, said none of the Hampton family was home at the time of the blaze.

New Power Baler Arrives Here

1,000 Pound Capacity Paper Press To Replace Hand Balers

A power press capable of baling up to 1,000 pounds of paper arrived here yesterday from New York and will be used in repairing wastepaper for shipment to war industries. W. Donald Smith, chairman of the Allegany County Salvage Committee, announced yesterday.

The press can turn out bales of paper forty-eight inches by fifty-four inches by seven feet in height and will be quite an improvement over the two 100-pound hand balers which have been used here in the past. While the new device's capacity is 1,000 pounds of paper, it is understood that only bales of 500 pounds are planned for shipment to plants where shortages exist.

The rebuilt baling equipment costs approximately $1,000.

It was pointed out that the new baler will enable the wastepaper collector to bundle loose paper more conveniently and with more speed than has prevailed in the past.

The next paper drive will be held in Cumberland and vicinity the latter part of this month. The West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, Covington, Va., and the Container Corporation, Philadelphia, received three and two carloads of the wastepaper collected here last month.

Public Schools To Open Today

Allegany county schools will open at 9 a. m. today with half-day sessions scheduled for today and tomorrow, according to Charles L. Kopp, county superintendent of schools.

Robert Kazmayer, lecturer and author told Allegany county teachers Wednesday that the public schools have a definite responsibility in training boys and girls now in school to meet the peace problems of the postwar world.

Speaking at the Fort Hill high school auditorium, Kazmayer said that regardless of what type of postwar organization is developed, America must be increasingly strong and prepared to take its share in such an organization.

Tasker G. Lowndes, president of the state board of education, another guest speaker, said it will be necessary to increase teaching salaries and to extend the twelve-year system to all children if educational standards are to be improved.

In Baltimore, Dr. Thomas G. Pullin, Jr., state superintendent, revealed a state turnover of approximately thirty to thirty-five per cent of teachers, more than three times the peace time normal, during the past year.

Some losses of teachers were absorbed by enlarging classes, working some teachers on double shifts, and by dropping high school courses when instructors were not available, Dr. Pullin said. He predicted that high school enrollments would increase slightly, due to a special drive to keep young people in school.

Merchants Plan Store Closings When Nazis Quil

C of C Mercantile Bureau Outlines Program for V-day

Plans for closing of Cumberland's business establishments on the day of Germany's surrender were outlined yesterday at a meeting of the mercantile bureau of the chamber of commerce, and Harold W. Smith, secretary of the chamber, said, copies of the plan will be sent to all chamber members.

If word of Germany's surrender comes before noon, stores will close only for the balance of the day, but if word comes after noon stores will close for the balance of the day as well as the following day, Smith said.

Should word of Germany's surrender be received the day before a holiday, stores will close for the balance of that day and the holiday only. If news of Germany's surrender is received on a holiday, stores will remain closed the day after the holiday. Sunday is to be considered a holiday, according to the announcement.

Guard against False Alarms

In order to avoid false alarms or premature closings, no announcement will be made until the official information is received through the recognized press and radio services, the outline revealed.

On receipt of definite information, a committee composed of E. V. Coyle, Adolph Hirsch, M. W. Peskin, Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum, Bradley S. Kehoe and B. M. Kamens will immediately notify all business establishments on Baltimore street and in South Cumberland.

Business houses are asked to prepare notices to be placed at their entrances and in windows stating specifically the period for which the establishment will be closed. The plan also suggested that arrangements be made with newspapers to withdraw advertisements and substitute for commercial displays, notices of the closing period or victory copy.

The plan suggested likewise that on the receipt of official news, store doors be closed immediately, transactions of customers be completed and all employees be dismissed.

Asked To Display Flag

Local merchants are urged to display the American flag and, in such cases, the flag should be cleaned and poles checked without delay.

The outline, bearing the signature of Mark Lazarus, chairman of the mercantile bureau, points out that it is recognized the surrender of Germany does not take America off guard, and that Japan still remains to be defeated, and many soldiers from the country are serving in the Pacific area.

Consequently, the program relates, the occasion should "be the signal for thoughtful prayer rather than riotous celebration and we suggest you try to promote this attitude."

COAL DISPLAY WILL BE BROUGHT HERE BY THE B. AND O.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has under way a comprehensive program to publicize coals mined along its system with a view to co-operating with the coal industry in promoting the postwar sale of bituminous coal.

In this connection there will be an display in the Queen City station September 27, 28, 29 and 30, an activated exhibit of the B. and O. "Bituminous Coals for Every Purpose."

A former resident of Cumberland, C. Norval Cox, coal traffic representative, Baltimore, will be in charge of the display.

The exhibit at Queen City station will provide in capsule form a quick trip over the bituminous coal fields served by the B. and O. It is in a display case showing under glass a map of the coal fields on the B. and O. lines. Around the map are illustrations of various samples of coal from various sections of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Green lights on the map indicate coal fields. As each green light goes on the partition holding the coal sample from the indicated section is illuminated for fifteen seconds. Then the show shifts to another coal field.

Red lights signify the bituminous coal shipping points on the Atlantic Ocean and the Great Lakes.

Around the maps are pictures of coal mining operations such as blast furnaces, manufacturing plants, homes, and other users of soft coal.

As each little coal cabinet lights up there is shown behind the sample of the coal a description of the seam from which it came, and its particular uses. Included in the display is the new Gauley-Sewell seam coal from West Virginia, which now is being developed.

NLRB HOLDS HEARING ON KELLY GRIEVANCES

Hearings on two grievances which arose at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company were conducted by Raymond Platt, hearing officer of the Third Regional National Labor Relations Board, Philadelphia, yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the Civil Service room of the post office building.

The first case, according to Roy E. Davy, president of Local 26, United Rubber Workers of America, involved a question of seniority.

The second case involved seniority, the union official said. The union contends that work being done by machinists should be done as tool and dye makers work and should be paid according to the latter classification.

Representing the company at the hearing were R. Mark Hudak, personnel manager of the company; Matthew J. Mullane, attorney, and Thomas A. Mont, master mechanic of the company.

Besides Davy, the union was represented by Herbert Welch, Akron, international TWUWA representative and B. Fay Thompson, chief committee.
